1. On Life After Death (The Afterlife)

Question:

- 1. What do we see when we enter the afterlife zone?
- 2. And by the way, what do you call this zone?
- 3. Is it the realm of souls and spirits? Or the zone of the dead?
- 4. Where is it?

Note: Questions asked by Roberto Alvarez from Costa Rica.

Answer (Kira'at Format):

- 1. On Earth, in this limited physical dimension, our supernatural powers are limited. They are governed by the laws of physics that define and regulate the nature, substance and functions of our planet.
- 2. However, the mind can escape from the earthly bondage and Earth's physical frontiers, and enter different dimensions.
- 3. The ultimate guide for your journey into the other world (afterlife zone; next dimension; dimension of ideas and thoughts; ethereal zone; astral sphere; parallel dimension, etc.) is the astral body.
- 4. In the past, we called it the double. In this particular situation, it is wiser to call it your guide, because during your journey to the other world – not afterlife yet – your physical body will remain on Earth, and there is no body per se to refer to.
- 5. No physical substance can enter non-physical sphere.
- 6. No human voice can reach the ear of non-physical entities.
- 7. No human voice or any sound produced on Earth is heard in other dimensions.

- However, your guide (Your Double) carries within itself everything that constitutes your physical body, including memory, thoughts and introspection. But not physical sensations and corporal feelings.
- 8. While your physical body is still quite alive but dormant in the physical surroundings (It could be your home, your office, your car, etc.), your Double retains all the faculties your brain and body received at the moment of your birth.
- 9. Of course, your knowledge will increase considerably throughout the ages as you enter school, colleges, universities, and as you begin to learn from your teachers and tutors.
- 10. We call this kind of knowledge “Ilmu Al Ard” (Earth’s Knowledge).
- 11. What you did not know is, that your “Conduit” which is located in the cells of your brains contains an enormous amount of knowledge you did not tap in yet, because you were not aware of its existence, or because you have never believed in the existence of your “Conduit”.
- 12. The Conduit consists of ultra-microscopically small tissues and membranes in your brain’s cells. They are infinitesimally small, no microscopes can detect them.
- 13. This Conduit contains and retains everything the Anunnaki put in you, in your body, and in your mind.
- 14. Only “Al Mounawarin” (Enlightened Ones) can tap into the Conduit.
- 15. Once the Conduit is activated by your teacher, you will become “Mounawar”.
- Without an activated and/or an open “Conduit” you cannot communicate with your “Double”.
- 16. And the way you communicate with your Double is via telepathy.
- 17. Telepathy is not reading others’ minds. Telepathy is not channeling. Telepathy is one of the tools you must use to be on the same vibrational level or frequency of your Double.

- 18. Your double is made out of electro-magnetic-ecto-plasma substance.
- 19. It has electricity, magnetism, plasma and ethereal energy called “Rouh”.
- 20. The Rouh is the non-physical image projection of what you are if you were separated from your body.
- 21. For now, forget everything about your body. Do not worry about it. No harm is going to happen to your body. It will stay where it is, only your “Other Self” will change.
- 22. Once, your Conduit is activated - better to say open – your mind begins to see new things…no, you are not hallucinating at all…you are only experiencing and seeing new things, called “Rou’yah” (Visions).
- 23. The very first thing you will see is absolutely nothing.
- 24. It is like if you were looking at an empty world without buildings, cars, trees and people.
- 25. For a few seconds, you will be confused. Your mind is still working. But your mind cannot understand yet this emptiness.
- 26. In fact, it is not emptiness at all. There is no such thing as emptiness or empty space or nothingness in the world. Everything is part of something else.
- 27. Because your mind is seeing something very new, or because your mind is seeing nothing at all, for now, that is why your mind cannot explain to you what “Is This?” What are you experiencing? Where are you? In this state, you will be confused, but it is not going to last long.
- 28. Your brain is reprogramming itself (Author’s note: The Anunnaki Ulema did not use the word “Programming”, but that is the most a propos word I can use to explain to you what he meant. The word he used is “Takarub”. It means getting closer to.) 29. In a very short time, your mind will be self-reprogrammed, because it is in the process of acquiring a “Memory”.

- 30. In this memory, are stored all the knowledge and data that allow your mind to understand what you are seeing. Almost 85% of your “Other-Self” is made out of memory in the astral world, contrary to what other schools of thoughts and religions claim.
- 31. I will recapitulate: Your Conduit is open now. Your mind has found a rich memory full of information. The vision of nothingness or emptiness vanishes. Now you begin to see something new. It starts like this:

This is what you will see first, when you enter the other world 1-Many layers of light dispersed as wide, and as far as you can see.

- 2-The shades appear fourth dimensional.
- 3-You are acquiring now an extra visual dimension. There are no words I can use for now to describe this new Fourth dimension. Anyhow, you will not be able to understand it no matter how hard I try to explain this to you. But in due time, you will understand.
- 4-Slowly slowly and very gradually you begin to see yourself; an image of yourself.
- 5-You get scared. It is understandable. This is your first reaction…fear!
- 6-Your mind will readjust itself, and in a blink of an eye, your fear will dissipate.
- 7-Your mind is telling you now that you are no longer on earth.
- 8-Your mind will reassure you that you are safe and no physical harm will come to you, because you are pure mind, but this mind is the ultimate reality.
- 9-Your Double will stand straight, right before your eyes.
- 10-And all of a sudden, faster than the speed of light, you’re zoomed into your Double.

- 11-Your Double and “You” are united. From now on, there are no more “You”, the person who lived on earth, and the other one (Your Double) that lives in the other dimension.
- 12-You become one with “all of yourselves”, one existence, one entity; an ethereal, astral, mental person.
- 13-You begin to float. How? It does not matter. You are floating now.
- 14-Where?
- 15-So close and so near to everything you knew and saw on earth.
- 16-Yet, you are not physical. Your Double looks exactly like you on the outside. It has the external physical looks of the body you had on earth, but it is transparent, and light like ether. And you are in full control of this new body.13-You will be able to remember all the places you have visited, all the things you liked and disliked. You will be able to visit any part of the world instantly.
- 17-You might experience strange feelings, such as falling so fast toward earth or an abyss, or being suspended in air and you don’t know what to do next. But in seconds, those feelings will fade away. And you continue to enjoy everything you are seeing and what you can do next.
- 18-Some like to go back and visit their body; the one they left on earth. In fact, many do. Try it.
- 19-Just command your new body to take you there.
- 20-And there you are hovering over your body.
- 21-You begin to gaze at your body.
- 22-Irresistibly you come closer to your physical body laying there motionless. And a new sensation invades you; you pity this mortal, weak, motionless, insignificant piece of flesh and bones.

- 23-And all of a sudden, you will understand that your physical body has a minimal value. And you will realize, that what really counts is your mind.

Entering a different dimension after you have passed away

- 1-Life continues after the so-called death. The human life does not end on Earth.
- 2-The soul is one of the many manifestations of the mind, although the soul does not manifest itself in any form or shape, not even in an etheric or ethereal sense. (Author’s note: Buddhism also uses mind instead of soul.) 3-At the moment, your body expires (At the moment of your death), your Double instantly separates itself from the sphere surrounding your body.
- 4-Your Double that co-existed with you in your physical dimension was never physically attached to your body.
- 5-In many instances, sometimes for a very long period, your “Double” has remained distant from your physical body for many reasons.
- 6-But in general, your “Double” stays very close to you.
- 7-The distance separating your Double from your physical body depends on your health condition. It is very healthy and even necessary to keep your Double at a close proximity of your body.

- 8-Miraculous recoveries are sometimes attributed to divine intervention. Sudden recoveries are sometimes attributed to a strong will and one’s determination to be healthy again. And of course, there are other inexplicable recoveries which are attributed to other inexplicable events and phenomena.
- 9-Everything is possible. But the main reason for a sudden and inexplicable recovery is the sudden re-entry of your healthy Double in your physical body.
- 10-It reactivates and energizes everything in your body.
- 11-It is like recharging a dead battery. Your Double knows very well how your body functions, far more and better than any physician.
- 12-Because the physical condition of your body at the time you relinquish your last breath is paramount, the passage to another dimension is henceforth influenced and altered accordingly.
- 13-For example, people who die in a brutal accident or commit suicide, their Double becomes instantly impaired and dysfunctional at the time of their death. Suicide is wrong.
- 14-No matter how miserable is your life, you should never commit suicide.
- 15-Tragic death and suicide confuse and disorient your Double.
- Disorienting your Double is harmful to your mind. And because your mind is your vehicle to the other world, you should avoid anything or anyone that could cause you a tragic, painful and sudden death.
- 16-The body has its wounds. The mind has wounds too, but you can’t see them. Your Double does.
- 17-If you leave Earth in that condition, your mind will not lead you toward the Ba’ab. You will be disoriented.

- 18-If you have not caused your own death, but suffered a lot at the time of your death, and your Double was far away from you, your passage to the other world will not be pleasant at all.
- 19-And the Ba’ab will not be open right away to allow you to enter the other side of the world. Of course, eventually you will pass through, but not before 40 tumultuous and painful days you will spend lost and confused in the realm of confusion and loneliness.
- 20-In normal situation such as a death of a natural cause, the passage to the other world takes its normal course, at the end of the Double’s self-judgment and assessment of deeds, actions and thoughts of the deceased.

2. On the “Women of the Light”

Question:
The women of light…where they women from earth or from heaven?

Answer (Kira’at Format):

- 1. The “Women of Light” were the early female-form on Earth.
- 2. Lilith and Eve were from the “Women of Light” group, created by the Anunnaki.
- 3. Their untraceable genealogical line, which is neither human, nor from the act of the Judeo-Christian-Muslim God, Biblical scholars puzzled the ancient scribes, the Biblical scholars and historians of all eras.
- It is an untraceable genealogical line, because both Lilith and Eve don’t have a father.
- 4. And if they did, their father, and their mother wouldn’t be of a human origin.
- 5. Eve was not created from the rib of Adam.
- 6. Different racial categories of men were created from an early female form that was “fertilized” by the leaders and the elite of the Anunnaki.
- 7. They lived in quarantined cities, and had both sons and daughters fathered by the Anunnaki.
- 8. Some of Anunnaki’s dwellings were in Ur, Amrit, Ougarit, Baalbeck, Batroon, Petra (Batra), Tyre and Sidon.
- 9. Early humans who lived during that era called the quarantined city of these women “The City of Mirage”, and “The City of Beautiful Illusion,” since the most attractive women from Earth lived there.

- 10. The early inhabitants of the Arab Peninsula called these women Houriyaat”.
- 11. Originally, the word “Houriyaat” is an Ana’kh (Anunnaki’s language) word. Later on, it was added to the Arabic language, and to the Afarit (Djinns) terminology.
- 12. The quasi-humans who were made out of Tourab “Earth, mud, dirt, soil” were not allowed to interact with these women.
- 13. Thousands of years later, the inhabitants of what is today the Arab Peninsula and the lands bordering Persia, the United Arab Emirates, and India, called these women “B’nat Al-Nour”, meaning “The Women of Light.”
- 14. A mild variation of the Anunnaki’s word B’nat became a Hebrew and an Arabic word “Banat”, which means daughters. And the Anunnaki’s word Nourr, which means light, became Menora in Hebrew, and Noor in Arabic.
- 15. Those who were allowed to “mix” with the Women of Light were called “The Sons of Light”.
- 16. From this early human race, all humans came to life. God had nothing to do with the creation of human beings.
- 17. In other words, the God we know, revere, and fear today did not create you.
- 18. Even the word or term “God” did not exist in the early stages of the existence of the Women of Light, and the primordial human race on Earth.
- 19. Instead the words or terms “Gods” or “Heavenly Masters” were used.
- 20. And thousands of years later, those terms were changed to; a- “Giants,”

b- “Gibborim,” c- “Jababira,” d- “Raphaim,” e- “Bene-Ha Elohim,” f- “Elohim,” g- “Nephilim,” h- “Anakim,” i- “Fallen Angels,” j- “Neteru,” k- “Anuki,” l- “Anunnaki,” m- “Ana’kh,”

You name it…

3. On the characteristics of the early human beings, created by the Anunnaki

Question:

- How did they look, the first humans who were created by the Anunnaki or other extraterrestrial races?

Note: Question asked by Ismail Habro Soloto, Senegal.

Answer (Kira’at Format):

- 1. The Anunnaki were the extraterrestrial race which created the human race.
- 2. By human race we mean modern human beings.
- 3. Before modern human beings acquired their “final” shape and form, other non-humans, quasi-humans and animal-human looking species were either created by the Anunnaki, or existed on Earth, before the Anunnaki landed on Earth.
- 4. These creatures of all species, kinds and categories were called “Behemoth”, and “Baha-im”.
- 5. They lived in Madagascar, Brazil, Central Africa, and other regions of the Earth.
- 6. Some were captured by the Anunnaki and “upgraded” to quasi-humans.
- 7. Those quasi-humans remained at a robotic-animalistic level, and consequently failed to perform or accomplish any intelligent task.
- 8. They were disregarded by the Anunnaki.
- 9. Some 300,000 years before the creation of the cities of “The Women of Lights,” forty-six different races of humans and quasi-humans populated the earth.

- 10. The greatest numbers were found in Africa, Madagascar, Indonesia, Brazil, and Australia.
- 11. These races died out not because of famine, ecological catastrophes, or acts of war, but because of the disintegration of the very molecules and composition of their cells.
- 12. The Anunnaki created the “final form” of human beings, and you, all the ordinary and normal people are their descendants.
- 13. In the genes, molecules and DNA of the early quasi-human race, the early expedition of the Igigi, and later on, the Anunnaki programmed thirteen faculties, or functions.
- 14.The most important abilities were as follows: a- To move b- To sense danger c- To understand by association d- To memorize e- To see forms and shapes in four colors.

These colors were:

a- Bright yellow, representing gold and the sun; b- Grey, representing minerals and rocks; c- Blue, representing the atmosphere, air, and water; d- Very strong red, representing heat and blood.

Other colors such as green, purple, lilac, etc, were not visible or known to the early and primitive form of quasi-humans.

4. On one world government, Anunnaki's return, DNA contamination, and other subjects

Questions from Matt Hoxtell, Chicago, Illinois, USA.
E-mail: hox2002@yahoo.com

Question #1: With the exception of us believing and having the Anunnaki as our creators, will people be warned by their selective governments or will they just be oblivious as they come within the next 50 some odd years?

Answer of Ulema Sorenztein: 1. The Anunnaki Matrix has revealed to us, that the Anunnaki shall return in 2022.

- 2. The United States government is fully aware of that fact.
- 3. According to insiders' reports, the United States government has already completed a protocol especially written to deal with the arrival of the Anunnaki.
- 4. In 2021, Earth's leading countries will reveal the plan they have developed to meet the Anunnaki.

*** *** ***

Question #2: Will the lands and water change such as another Pangea?

Answer of Ulema Sorenztein: The Anunnaki Matrix did not reveal any information on this subject. Consequently, we are unable to provide any data or Kira'at pertaining to your question.

*** *** ***

Question #3: Will we be a one world government?

Answer of Ulema Sorenztein: 1. The Anunnaki Matrix indicates, that in the year 2022, the Earth's people, countries, and governments will be united harmoniously under a global friendly council overseeing the affairs of planet Earth.

- 2. To a certain degree, you could consider the Council as "one world government." However, this new government will not dictate new social and political rules.
- 3. The new world government will be established by the Anunnaki.

*** *** ***

Question #4: Will the Anunnaki send us warnings if our government does not?

Answer of Ulema Sorenztein: 1. Most certainly.

- 2. Bear in mind, that governments don't mean much for the Anunnaki. For the Anunnaki are fully aware that governments are nothing but a privileged elite that managed to be elected, appointed and followed by ill-informed masses.
- 3. The Anunnaki do not consider world's governments as the representatives of the people of the Earth.
- 4. What counts is the global population of planet Earth, regardless of ethnicity, race, nationality and gender.
- 5. The United States, Russia, England, France, Germany, Japan and other countries have already joined efforts to produce a protocol to deal with this issue: The return of the Anunnaki. They will announce it in 2021.
- 6. The Swiss government works independently.

- 7. For the past 30 years, the Swiss government has been working on new social structures, underground habitats, health programs, and social orientation programs, aimed at preparing its population to cope with the return of the Anunnaki.
- 8. The Swiss programs are not yet known to the Swiss people. But eventually, these programs shall be made public in 2021.

Question number 5: In some of the readings you mentioned they will come to return in 2022 and rid the earth of all the people who have contaminated DNA.

Sounds a little hard to believe because people have never known anything like this to occur.

Answer (Kira’at Format):

- 1. That is correct. The people of the Earth are not aware of this situation.
- 2. Many do not believe in extraterrestrials.
- 3. Others doubt the whole idea.
- 4. And very few have learned about the possibility of an Anunnaki’s return.
- 5. Greatest events in humanity’s history were never pre-announced; they were either dictated by the course of events, or planned in total secrecy.
- 6. This is how powers and governments on Earth function.
- 7. Besides, as long as organized religions retain their influence over the masses, the truth will never be revealed to the people of the Earth.
- 8. In 1947 and in 1956, the United States government planned on telling the American people, the whole truth about the existence of extraterrestrial civilizations, the agreement signed with the Grays, the crashes of alien spacecrafts and other pertinent matters of a major importance to the people of the world.
- 9. Powerful clergymen in the United States and the Vatican strongly objected, because they feared that such revelations will destroy the very foundation and fabric of societies, religion, law and order on Earth.
- 10. DNA contamination has occurred.
- 11. This is a fact.

- 12. Military scientists and physicians are fully aware of the situation.
- 13. DNA contamination resulted from cross-breeding and intra-breeding between humans and the Grays. These breedings have created a new race called hybrids.
- 14. The hybrid race is not a successful race. It has many problems, most notably the progeria disease.
- 15. The DNA of the hybrids is totally different from the DNA of human beings.
- 16. Additional cross-breedings will cause continuous contamination, and possibly an annihilation of the human race as you know it.
- 17. These are very delicate and frightening subjects should not be brought to the attention of the masses, before adequate solutions are available to deal with these subjects.
- 18. Should the general public discover what is going on, your world could collapse.
- 19. The panic and mass hysteria will confuse many, and destroy your way of life.

On a dead person who just died, and the Ba’ab (Entrance to the other world)

Question:

What happens to a bad person when he dies and right before he reaches the “Ba’ab”?

Answer (Kira’at Format):

- 1. The “Nizam” (Cosmic Order and Law) tells us, that nobody escapes the final judgment. Each one of us is responsible for his/her acts, deeds, thoughts, even intentions.

- 2. The principle of accountability “Hisaab” is called “Da.Em” (Perpetual).
- 3. Eventually, all people will be saved at the end.

- 4. There is no such thing as hell where human flesh and bones are burned by an eternal fire.
- 5. Through the Ba’ab, the good person will be admitted to the grace and beauty of a higher dimension of happiness and peace. The bad person will not be allowed to enter the Ba’ab right away.

- 6. When a bad person dies, he immediately faces his Double.
- 7. In this instance, the Double acts as a conscience and as a judge.

- 8. The entire life flashes before his mind as a holographic sequence of events, deeds and thoughts.
- 9. It is a large screen of his entire life.

- 10. Everything he did in his life on Earth is projected on this screen.
- 11. Because he was a bad person, he will not be allowed to enter the Madkhal (Entrance to the other world).

- 12. His double will stop him right there.
- 13. He will be punished according to the gravity of his acts and thoughts.

- 14. This bad person could spend thousands of years in a state of confusion, loneliness, fear, anguish, mental pain and suffering.
- 15. The mental pain is as real and as atrocious as a physical pain.

- 16. There is no escape.
- 17. The bad person will spend those very long years in a sphere inhabited by chaos, horrific entities and psychosomatic pain, even though, he does no longer possess a physical body.

- 18. All the properties of his physical (Corporal) bodies are transferred to his mind in this new sphere, and as a result, he will suffer physically through his mind.
- 19. And as a punishment, he will feel the same pain and suffering he caused to others.

- 20. There is no physical hell in the afterlife. But as I see it, this sort of punishment is more painful than burning in fire.
- 21. Because his Double is partially responsible, the Double will suffer too.

- 22. Consequently, the deceased bad person will not be united with his Double.
- 23. The separation between the deceased bad person and his Double will last for many years, as long as it takes to rehabilitate him and purify his past deeds and thoughts.

- 24. Once the rehabilitation is complete, and the bad person has been totally purified, he unites with his Double and consequently loses all his psychological (Psychosomatic) senses of the physical properties of his body.
- 25. Thus the pain ceases.

- 26. From the Madkhal he reaches the Ba’ab that takes him to a higher dimension; a sphere of tranquility, beauty, and eternal peace.
- 27. However, this sphere is not perfect, because it is the lowest of the seven other dimensions that constitute the final and eternal destinations of the human existence.

- 28. As we progress mentally (Spiritually to others), we reach higher and higher dimensions.
- 29. The highest sphere or zone we can reach is the Six dimension.

- The Seventh dimension is the “Malakout” (Almost same word in Hebrew, Aramaic, Phoenician, Syriac and Arabic, Ana’kh, and it means kingdom or paradise), where the Supreme Energy (God or the Original Force of Creation) originated, exists, lives, and extends infinitely.

Does everybody reach immortality?
Have the Anunnaki made us immortal?

Question:
Do we become immortal if we follow the teachings of the Ulema?

Answer (Kira’at Format):

 1. On Earth, humans cannot reach immortality.

- 2. Afterlife, the “Tahirin” (Purified ones) will reach immortality.
- 3. But we have to understand what immortality is?

Is it an eternal existence?
What kind of existence?

Is it physical or spiritual? Mental or organic?
Terrestrial or extraterrestrial?

Nothing in the universe lasts for ever, not even the universe itself. Eventually, the universe will cease to exist once it has reached the limitations of its expansion.

Note: Contemporary leading scientists in the field of cosmology and quantum physics agree with the honorable Ulema. They have publicly stated that soon or later, the universe will cease to exist. Those who believe in Jesus, Mohammad, Krishna, Vishnu, Jehovah, and Allah don’t.

- 4. It is very important to keep in mind, that so many extraterrestrial beings came to earth, thousands of years ago.
- 5. We are aware of 46 different alien races who have visited planet earth.

- 6. Some of these alien races created early forms of human beings. I say forms, because at the time these living creatures were created by the aliens, they lacked mental faculties. Some looked like us, but not exactly.
- 7. We know from the manuscripts of Melkart and the “Society of the Fish” which was established by the early Phoenicians who lived on the Island of Arwad, that the primitive human beings were called “Intelligent animals” because they behaved and lived like animals, but were more intelligent than the beasts of the earth.

- 8. These beings were created by extraterrestrials who came from a lower dimension, even though, they were highly advanced. The extraterrestrials did not install a Conduit in the brain cells of the primitive beings.
- 9. Without a Conduit, no living creature can ascend to the Madkhal or Ba’ab.

- 10. Consequently, a passage to the Fourth dimension is impossible without a Conduit.
- 11. Thus, these primitive creatures did not reach immortality, because they did not go through the Ba’ab. Because the primitive creatures did not have a mind, but brain’s membranes, they were unable to continue to live afterlife.

- 12. In the afterlife, you continue to live only with your mind.
- 13. Your mind is the source of energy that keeps you alive.

- The primitive creatures did not have a mind, although their brain was wired like an electronic machine.
- 14. Their brain was not developed at all, and as a result, their race became extinct.

- 15. They perished, not because of famine, wars, or fall of asteroids on earth, but because of the deterioration of the cells of their brains.
- 16. You will not find these primitive creatures on other planets, or in parallel dimensions.

- 17. Human beings who were “Dha-kiliyan” (Genetically) created by the Anunnaki “Khalikim” (geneticists) will eventually reach immortality, as long as the universe remains in existence.
- 18. The early living-forms of human beings, primitive creatures, intelligent animals, monstrous robotic human-like species vanished from the face of the earth some 65,000-61,000 years ago.

- 19. When the Igigi came to planet earth, some 65,000 years ago, they captured many of those primitive half human, half animal creatures who were living in Australia, Madagascar, Brazil, Indonesia, Central Africa and some regions of Europe, and transformed them Dha-kiliyan (Genetically) into an upgraded form of humans. Still, they looked like robotic animals. A few years later, they died out.
- 20. Approximately some 65,000 to 60,000 years ago, three extraterrestrial races Dha-kiliyan (Genetically) created a new human race. They were the Lyrans, the Nordics, and the Anunnaki. The newly created human race had a mind (Not to be confused with soul), brains' cells and a dormant Conduit.

- 21. Because a Conduit was installed in their brains, our ancestors were destined to reach immortality. Today, we are the offspring and descendants of the intelligent human race created by these three extraterrestrial races.
- 22. Yes, you can say, the Anunnaki made us immortals.

On the “Double”; Astral Body

Question:
Master, what is the “Double of ourselves”? I read about this in many of your Kira’at, yet I can’t really understand what do you mean.
Is it a sort of an angel protecting us or it is what the Hindu say an auric presence? How the Anunnaki explain this?

Answer (Kira’at Format):

- 1. The “Double” is a western term frequently used to represent your other body that exists in the astral dimension.
- 2. Your physical body is a “physical projection” and a replica of your original body that existed before you were born.
- 3. The original body is called the double. So what we have here is two things:
- a- A body that existed before you were born.
- 4. This body is not 100% physical. It is a conglomeration of the properties and specs of your physical body that will exist as soon as you were born.
- 5. It is very important to understand, that while you are still a child, your physical body is in reality, the body of a child.
- 6. However, and even though, you are still a child, the other form of the body that surrounds you while you are still a child is much older than your child body.
- 7. It is much older and more complete because it already contains everything (Physical and mental) that will define and shape up your physical body that will keep on changing as you grow up.

- b-The physical body you have; the one you and others see.
- 8. This physical body is the one you have, and will continue to change as you grow older.
- 9. Your physical body will continue to change throughout the ages.
- 10. You get taller, bigger, healthier, stronger, and weaker, you lose your hair, you get wrinkles, etc.
- 11. But during all these physical changes, your double remain unaffected, however, it continues to change as your physical body continues to change.
- 12. This is why, it is called the double. It is the double of everything your physical body has.
- 13. Before you were born, and before your physical body took shape, YOU (as a human being) have existed somewhere as an idea.
- 14. The idea has preceded the creation of your DNA.
- 15. The idea has created your DNA.
- 16. Who came up with this idea?
- 17. This depends on your religious beliefs. If you believe in the Judeo-Christian tradition, then, your God is the originator of this idea. He created you his way. The Anunnaki-Ulema version of your creation is quite different.
- 18. The Anunnaki-Ulema state that you, as an astral body, as a Double, and as a physical body were created by a formula used by the Anunnaki, long before humans heard the word or concept “God”.
- 19. This formula was created by the Anunnaki in a non-human sphere. Because at that time, humans did not exist yet.
- 20. At the very beginning and at the early stage of the creation of your physical body, the Anunnaki (One person or multiple persons) conceived your physical looks as a picture or as blueprints in the astral world.

- 21. The astral world is the World of Ideas; a non-physical world.
- 22. In a non-physical world, everything is non-physical, it is astral, and ethereal.
- 23. These attributes: Non-physical, astral, and ethereal, one day will become physical, when your mother delivers you to the physical world.
- 24. When the ethereal image or idea becomes reality and adopts physical properties like eyes, legs, feet and bones, you physical body separates itself from the astral body (Your Double). Yet, your physical body remains deeply and directly connected to the draft of the first copy of your physical body.
- 26. Since the first draft of your non-physical body and your recently acquired physical body (or about to be developed in the womb of your mother) are still connected to each other, both bodies (The Idea or Draft and your physical body) co-exist. One in the astral, the other, right here on Earth.

The “Double” and one’s religion

Question:
Does my “Double” decide before I was born whether I am going to be a Christian, a Muslim, a Jew or an Atheist?

Answer (Kira’at Format):

- 1. No.

- 2. All humans retain their freedom when it comes to certain attitudes and decisions they will adopt and make, and personal preferences, they will choose in their lives on Earth. But this is not the complete explanation.
- 3. In this particular case, religion was never a part of the creation scenario as decided upon by the Anunnaki.
- 4. Religion is the product of the human mind, and the human's beliefs system which was created by the early priests of all religions, visionaries, and so called prophets and "Messengers of God." Religion was never considered or anticipated by the Anunnaki at any time.
- 6. The very early human beings considered the Anunnaki as celestial gods, because they descended from "above".
- 7. The early human beings considered "above" as the realm of the gods, because they were not familiar with cosmology and astronomy.
- 8. Thus, everything that has descended on planet Earth, was considered godly by your ancestors.
- 9. Consequently, the scribes and the priests began to formulate teaching and principles on the gods and the heavens.
- 10. Later on, the early priests discovered that religion was a mighty power, and served well their beliefs, and status in the community, and vis-à-vis the kings and rulers.
- 11. So as you see, religion was fabricated by humans to rule humans. Your double has no ethnicity, no gender, and no religion.

On the relation between the physical body and the non-physical body at the time we were born.

Question:
What happened to the two bodies; the physical and non-physical at the time we were born?

Answer (Kira’at Format):

- 1. As soon as you begin to develop as a small physical body, inside the womb of your mother, the original format of your physical body as created by the Anunnaki begins to feed your brain’s cells and program your intellect.
- 2. In other words, your brain begins to receive all the information and characteristics that will create and define your personality, temper, character, persona and nature.
- 3. During the very first 40 days, everything the Anunnaki, your creator, wanted you to be or to become start to “go inside your brain” and in the physiology of your body.
- 4. During this very critical intellectual and physical formation stage, the other aspect of you, your Double, enters a dimension very close to your mother, and once your mother delivers you, your double, the non-physical body, will leave the “surroundings” of your mother and follow you.
- 5. From this moment, your Double will stay with you until you die.
- 6. You will have plenty of opportunities to talk to your double, and ask him to guide you in your life.

- 7. Of course, this could be done, once you have purified your thoughts.
- 9. An evil person will never be able to zoom into his/her body and acquire wisdom, guidance, and supernatural faculties, otherwise the whole world will be ruled, and controlled by vicious and destructive powerful people.

On the Double interaction with babies and children

Question:
Does my double interact with me while I am still a baby?

Answer of the Anunnaki-Ulema:

- 1. Yes, it does in many ways.
- 2. Your double interacts with you in a most fascinating way, noticeable only to you, and not to others, including your parents.
- 3. Many children have seen their double. And many of them spoke to their double, and played with their double.
- 4. In many instances, children called their double “my friend”, or “a friend who came to visit me.”
  Unfortunately, many parents discouraged their small children from talking to their “imaginary friends”, or fantasizing about the visits of their imaginary friends. This is very common. But we have to be very careful here.
- 5. Imaginary friend or friends does not always mean” Your Double”. Many times, and quite often, other non-physical entities visit children and talk to them.
- 6. And strangely enough, the children love to talk and play with these non-physical entities. Children consider them as real friends.

- 7. In fact, later in their lives, many geniuses have admitted that part of their astonishing creativity and prolific work originated from the time they spoke to their unseen and imaginary friends.
- 8. Also, many of them confessed that they have missed those friends, because they never returned.
- 9. Ulema children are encouraged to talk about their “imaginary friends”. These are very precious moments in their early lives.
- 10. They are precious moments, because during this stage, the infant and later on, the small child, is given the opportunity of learning important things, and acquiring extraordinary faculties that could and would transform them into brilliant people, when they grow up.
- 11. Your Double could dissipate for ever. Of course, in the future, your Double might appear to you, again and again, on certain occasions.
- 12. But, because you have lost touch with your Double, and because you do not remember the beautiful and friendly visits of your Double and “imaginary friends,” your mind and common sense will automatically dismiss the sudden apparition of your Double (Should it happens again) as a reality.
- 13. And people will rush to tell you: “You are seeing things!” Others will say: “You are hallucinating.”
- 14. Therapists, psychologists, and psychiatrists explain the phenomenon (Apparition of your double) as a trick of the mind, hallucination, fantasy, mental disturbance, you name it…
- 15. But, it is not a trick or a hallucination at all. It just happened that your Double is paying you a visit. Instead of questioning your sanity, you must rejoice and welcome your “friend”.
- 16. In fact, your Double is the most truthful, caring and best friend you ever had, simply because it is YOU! The purest form and format of “You”.

- 17. Now, you have to understand, that your double appears to you for many reasons. It is never accidental. It is never triggered by insanity or a mental anomaly. You are doing just fine. Open your mind, take a deep breath, go with the flow, relax, and wait and see what it is going to happen next.
- 18. Your double always watches over you. He cares about you.
- 19. Its presence is a sign of friendship, sometimes necessary and indispensable for solving your problems and finding a way to get out of troubles.
- 20. You should welcome your Double and listen to.

On hybrids and immortality

Question:
Can hybrids reach immortality?

Answer of the Anunnaki-Ulema Ben Yacoob:

- 1. Although hybrids are intelligent beings, they are not to be considered neither as humans nor as extraterrestrials.

- 2. Their essence (DNA) is not pure.
- 3. They are genetically created either by humans or by a malicious extraterrestrial race.

- 4. Any living creature Dha-kiliyan (Genetically) created by humans will never reach immortality.
- 5. Because a Dha-kiliyi (Genetic) creation of other living-forms manufactured by human beings is an artificial product, this Dha-kiliyi (Genetic) product which does not include the first energy element introduced in regular human beings by the Anunnaki will totally disintegrate without leaving the “Shou’la” (Spark of life).

- 6. The Shou’ la was created on earth by the Anunnaki. No human ever succeeded in duplicating a Shou’la.
- 7. Any living creature Dha-kiliyan (Genetically) created on earth or in other physical dimensions by a malicious extraterrestrial race coming from a lower dimension will not reach immortality.

Author’s note:
I do believe that the honorable Ulema was referring to what American ufologists call the “Greys”, even though, he has never used the word “Greys”.

It is my belief that this word is an American ufology terminology. The word he used was “Min Kariji al-dounia”. Min means from. Kariji means outside or outer. Dounia means the world.

- 8. Living entities or creatures created by the Greys are born contaminated.
- 9. The Greys’ contamination prevents these living entities (Hybrids, half humans-half-extraterrestrials) from ascending to the Ba’ab.

- 10. Consequently, the hybrids will not enter the other dimensions and reach immortality.

On the early remnants of the Anunnaki, and humans who rebelled against the Anunnaki

Question:

Who were the first descendants of the Anunnaki? Where they the Sumerians or another race that has disappeared thousands of years ago?

Answer of the Anunnaki-Ulema:

- 1. The earliest among the final terrestrial human race were the Phoenicians, the Hyksos, the Philistines, the very early Etruscans, the earliest Druids, Minoan, people of Mu, and the first inhabitants of Sumeria.
- 2. Later on, the Shumerians resided among the last remnants of the Anunnaki who visited earth and lived there for 600 more years.
- 3. After that, the Anunnaki left earth for good, never to return again, except as visitors.
- 4. One of the reasons for their departure was the discovery of the “tree of life”, also known as “The Tree of Knowledge” by humans – a metaphor for the acquisition of knowledge and understanding by the human race, on its own.
- 5. The acquisition of this supreme knowledge caused the humans to rebel against the Anunnaki.

On the meaning of the triangle shape in Anunnaki-Ulema manuscripts

Question:
What does mean the symbol of the triangle in the Ulema books? Is it a secret insignia or simply a geometrical shape?

Answer of the Anunnaki-Ulema Sorenztein:

Master Sorenztein, who lived for a while in Lower Manhattan, New York City, said:

- 1. The triangle has many meaning in the Anunnaki-Ulemite literature.
- 2. Generally speaking, the triangle is a symbol for equilibrium, strength, and harmony.
- 3. The triangle is also the primordial shape of the Delta.
- 4. At the very beginning, the Delta or the triangle represented Ki, which is the name of the Earth in Akkadian and Sumerian.
- 5. The triangle is also a negative force. And this is why many of us are very concerned with the triangle.
- 6. When the triangle or Delta is integrated without balance and cosmic harmony (spatial equilibrium) in architectural designs and lining up territories, the triangle becomes a negative force on the map of planet Earth.
- 7. If the three sides of the triangle are separated, by any means, shape or form, such separation can cause serious health problems to human beings.
- 8. The triangle becomes three lines of negative energy.
- 9. This energy is not easily detected; nevertheless it runs strong and deep underground.
- 10. People who live above these lines suffer enormously.
- 11. In many instances, this negative power or current can negatively affect the present and future of many human beings.
- 12. Each country has these negative currents or circuits underground.
- 13. Some American states are located above these lines; to name a few: Mississippi, Alabama, the northern part of Washington, D.C., and two areas in Brooklyn, and New York City.
- 14. In some other cities, the negative lines are replaced by underground and above-ground Madkhals (Entrances) leading to the doomed zones.

On learning from our Double and acquiring supernatural faculties

Question:

What do we get from zooming into our Double?

Answer of the Anunnaki-Ulema:

- 1. The initiated and enlightened ones can zoom into their other bodies, and acquire Anunnaki’s supernatural faculties.

- 2. I have used the words supernatural faculties instead of supernatural powers, because the enlightened and initiated ones are peaceful, and do not use physical power, brutal force or any aggressive means to reach their objectives.
- 3. The use of violence against humans and animals, even aggressive thoughts and harmful intentions annihilate all chances to acquire Anunnaki’s extraordinary faculties.

- 4. Your Double can easily read your thoughts.
- 5. If your thoughts are malicious, your Double will prevent you from zooming yourself into its ethereal molecules.

6. Therefore, you have to control your temper, remain calm, and show serenity in your thoughts, intentions and actions.

- 7. You Double is very delicate, even though it can accomplish the toughest missions and penetrate the thickest barriers. Any indication of violence or ill intention triggers a pulse that blocks your passage to the ethereal sphere of your Double.

- 8. Once you enter your Double, you will be able to use it in so many beautiful and effective ways as:
  a-A protective shield against danger, b-An effective apparatus to protect yourself in hostile and dangerous situations, c-A tool to develop your abilities to learn many languages, and enhance your artistic creativity, d-A stimulus to increase the capacity of your memory, e-Instrument to heal wounds and internal injuries. No, you will not become a surgeon, but you will be able to stop internal bleeding, and eliminate pain, f-A vehicle to visit distant places and even enter restricted areas for good causes. In brief, the possibilities are endless.

- 9. Once you are in a perfect harmony with your Double, and your physical organism is elevated to a higher vibrational level through your union with your Double, you will be able to walk through solid substances such as walls, sheets of glasses and metal.

- 10. You become effective in controlling metal and de-fragmenting molecules of any substance. This will allow you to transmute, change and alter the properties of any object known to mankind.
- 11. But if you use these supernatural faculties to hurt others, or for personal and selfish gain, you will loose them for good, and you will be accountable for such malicious use in the other dimension. And this could delay your entrance through the Ba'ab.

Note:

During one of the readings, I saw with my own eyes, the honorable Ulema Al Bakri dematerializing and walking through a wall. Many of the students, including myself thought it was an illusion, a trick performed by the teacher. We became suspicious.

We were wrong, because when we began to search for him inside the room, and check the thickness of the wall, we heard him calling us from outside the room.

He was standing under a pomegranate tree in the garden. And in a blink of an eye, he materialized inside the room, as if he has never left us. We became speechless.
One student asked him:

How long it would take me to do this? Can I do what you did? And the honorable Ulema replied: “Only if you free your mind, and clean your thoughts.
To cross over to the other side, you need to establish a direct rapport with your Double, and invite others to your heart…”

Materialization and dematerialization:

The Ulema’s ability to materialize and dematerialize is a gift they received from the Anunnaki. And it can be taught to the initiated. These phenomena are not an Ulema’s monopoly.

These extraordinary phenomena were known to the ancients who were not contaminated or corrupted by greed.

On the Grays, their disease, and doomed race

Questions:

- Is it true the Grays are dying?

- What are they dying from?
- Are they kidnapping people to use them as guinea pigs and extract something from their bodies to save their own lives?

Answers of Anunnaki Sinhar Inannaschamra:

- 1. The Grays are a dying civilization.
- 2. Many of them (Almost the majority) have progeria.

- 3. On earth, progeria is also called Hutchinson - Gilford syndrome, after the two scientists who discovered it in 1886.
- 4. Progeria victims are children who age, really become old people, before they even reach puberty; it is a parent nightmare, but very rare on Earth, common among the Grays.

- 5. Only one progeria child is born out of four to eight million births. Rare, and extremely frightening genetic disease, resulting from spontaneous mutation in the sperm or egg of the parents.
- 6. The horror of this disease is that it has no cure.

- 7. The child is born, starts showing early symptoms, and begins to age right away.
- 8. The children remain tiny, rarely over four feet, both boys and girls become bald, and all develop a large cranium, a pointy nose and a receding chin, resulting in an amazing resemblance to each other, almost as if they were clones.

- 9. And then they die of old age, mostly in their teens but often before, and there is nothing anyone can do for them. They develop old age diseases – such as hardening of the arteries – and often die of strokes or coronary disease, while their poor parents have to watch helplessly.
- 10. The name progeria is very appropriate. It means ‘before old age,’ and expresses it very well.

- 11. The civilization of the Grays is millions of years old, and for eons, they have been degenerating. A huge percentage of their population has progeria, in varying degrees, and because of that, they are threatened with extinction.
- 12. No one knows how many Grays are affected, and how many are progeria-free. We only meet those who are, at least for the present, able to carry on their duties, with the help of their advanced medical technology. For all we know, there are millions of sick individuals hidden from view on their home planet.

- 13. The Grays do not reproduce sexually. They used to, but not anymore.
- 14. Also, they don’t reproduce like the Anunnaki, either. For thousands of years, they have been relying on cloning. And that has damaged their DNA even further, creating more and more cases of progeria. They are dying out.

- 15. There are strong similarities between the Grays and the progeria children of Earth. For one thing, progeria does not produce any form of dementia.
- 16. Both groups maintain their excellent mental faculties, usually with high IQ, until they die.

- 17. That is a very important clue, but here are the others for your consideration:
- 18. Neither group ever grows much beyond four feet.
- 19. Both have fragile, weak bodies, with thin arms and legs; all their bones are thin, as a general rule.
- 20. Both groups are bald.
- 21. Grays have no sexual reproduction, most have no genitalia at all. Progeria children never reach puberty.
- 22. Both have large heads by comparison to their bodies.
- 23. Both have receding chins and pointy noses. Within their groups, they closely resemble each other. The Grays are cloned; the progeria children look as if they could have been cloned.
- 24. The Grays believe that the experiments on abductees will help them survive.
- 25. They take the eggs and the sperm from humans and combine them with Grays' DNA. Thus, they create the hybrid children.
- 26. The hybrid children are closer to the Grays in their character and behavior than they are to humans.

- 27. The first generation hybrids are smaller than human children. They tend to follow the growth pattern of the Gray parent.
- 28. They are even smaller than progeria babies. The retardation of growth begins before birth.

- 29. First generation means that they go on mixing the genetic material.
- 30. The Hybrids may or may not have progeria, but naturally, the more human DNA is mixed into the species, the more chances of eliminating the bad genes exist.

- 31. So they breed the Hybrids with more human DNA, always hoping to eradicate the disease, never quite succeeding. That is why they have to get fresh human specimens all the time.
- 32. They have no chance of survival. They are doomed.

- 33. Some governments on Earth arte fully aware of this situation. They have made a deal with the Grays. They supply them with humans. Usually, these victims are retarded people, prostitutes, homeless, etc.
- 34. In exchange, the Grays give them the technology they crave for.

- 35. Some of the most up to date scientific discoveries and inventions were given to governments by the Grays.
- 36. They have learned so much from the Grays, and they mostly use it for military purposes.

- 37. Humans are not kind to each other. Look at wars, torture, genocide, holocausts... all part of human history, and still taking place.
- 38. There are various places on earth where such activities can be studied, various military bases, underground mostly, in many countries.

- 39. There are no hybrid bases anywhere else, except on planet Earth, certainly not on Nibiru.
- 40. Earth is the lowest habitat in the universe.

- 41. And humans are the lowest living-forms in the universe. Even animals are more elevated than humans, taking into consideration the enormous opportunities, humans were given to ascend to a higher level of knowledge, awareness, and goodness.

On the parallel dimension, frontiers of the after-life, rewards and punishment of the human body and soul in the other world

Questions:

- How do you describe the afterlife?
- And what happens to people end up there?
- Is there is final judgment after life?
- Punishment for the bad people and reward for the good ones?
- And how about hell and paradise? Do they exist in the other world?
- Is the Bible telling us the truth about hell and heaven?

Answer of the Anunnaki-Ulema.
Master Shlomo ben Naphtali said:

- 1. The parallel dimension is so close to us
- 2. The sphere and frontiers of the afterlife begin in the parallel dimension which is so close to us, but we are unable to see it, to feel it and to understand it, because:

a-Our Conduit is not fully activated,
b-We are contaminated by earthy elements,

c-Our mind has not been yet purified,
d-We do not know how to ascend to the Ba’abs

e-We do not know how to locate Al Madkhal, f-We have not established a direct rapport with our Double,

g-We have not liberated our mind from physical bondage, h-We have not freed ourselves from many caprices, lust, greed and attachment to physical possessions.

- 3. In fact, the afterlife does not necessarily begin after we die, because death does not exist; it is simply a transitory stage.
- 4. Within our physical world exist so many other worlds. And far away, and deep in the fabric of the universe, distances are reduced, even eliminated, if we zoom into our Double.

- 5. Matter and anti-matter are de-fragmented in the parallel dimension.
- 6. The initiated and enlightened ones can transport themselves to the other world, and visit the far distant corners of the universe through their Double.

- 7. Those who are noble in their thoughts, intentions and deeds can accomplish this after an Ulema initiation.

Answers and comments of the Anunnaki-Ulema:

- 1. The righteous people will be reunited with their loved ones including their pets in the afterlife.
- 2. This reunion will take place in the ethereal Fourth Dimension.

- 3. The reunion is not of a physical nature, but mental. This means, that the mind of the deceased will project and recreate holographic images of people, animals and places.
- 4. All projected holographic images are identical to the original ones, but they are multidimensional.

- 5. Multidimensional means that people, animals and physical objects are real in essence, in molecules, in DNA, and in origin, but not necessarily in physical properties. In other words, what you see in the afterlife is real to the mind, but not to your physical senses, because in the after life (In all the seven levels/dimensions of life after death), physical objects, including humans' and animals' bodies acquire different substances, molecular compositions, and new forms.
- 6. The physical rewards and punishments are mental, not physical in nature, but they are as real as the physical ones.

- 7. The deceased will suffer through the mind.
- The pain sensations are real, but are produced by the mind, instead of a physical body. So in concept and essence, the Ulema and Hebraic scholars share similar beliefs; the good person will be rewarded, and the bad person will be punished.

- 8. For the Jews, it is physical, while for the Anunnaki-Ulema it is mental, but both reward and punishment are identical in their intensity and application.
- 9. The wicked will not be indefinitely excluded from a reunion with loved ones.

- 10. The wicked will remain in a state of loneliness, chaos, confusion and mental anguish for as long it takes to rehabilitate him/her.
- 11. This state of punishment and rehabilitation can last for a very long period of time in an uncomfortable sphere of existence inhabited by images of frightening entities created by the mind as a form of punishment.

- 12. Eventually, all wicked persons will reunite with their loved ones after a long period of purification and severe punishment.

Ulema’s comments on the “Soul” and the Mind”:

- 13. Soul is a metaphysical concept created by Man.
- 14. Soul is a religious idea created by humans to explain and/or to believe in what they don’t understand.

- 15. It is more accurate to use the word Mind instead.
- 16. The mind thinks and understands.

- 17. The soul does not, perhaps it feels, if it is to be considered as a vital force and source of feelings in your physical body. The difference between Soul and Mind resides in the purpose of each. Although both aim at a higher level of spirituality, the Mind surpasses the Soul, because it contains it.
- 18. In the afterlife, such source of feelings is non-existent, and in the dimensions of the after world, such source is useless.

On resurrection and reincarnation:

The answers and the comments of the Anunnaki-Ulema on reincarnation.

 1. There is no reincarnation of bodies or souls on Earth.

- 2. But in other dimensions, a process of purification and learning in the form of Mind transmigration occurs and re-occurs indefinitely.
- 3. When the Anunnaki created us on this Earth, they mixed in a mold, an earthly element called “Turab” with part of their essence (DNA).

Note:
a-Mold means container, an incubator or a similar tool.
b-Turab means dirt, sands, carbon, fossils, etc…
It is not necessarily clay as we know it today, and as it was alleged or explained by other authors.
Some enlightened teachers have said, that Turab or the clay mentioned in the Sumerian texts could also be sea shells. This was mentioned in ancient Phoenicians texts, epics and terracotta.
c-Part of their essence means DNA or an extract from their genes that were not contaminated on Earth.

- 4. Because the mix did not contain what humans call “Soul”, the soul never entered our bodies.
- 5. There is another non-physical element called Mind that substitutes for the soul. (Buddhism shares this concept.) 6. The Mind does not reincarnate and/or return to Earth. No reason to.
- 7. The Mind evolves in our lives according to the Anunnaki’s blueprint, and in virtue of a constant learning on Earth. This is one of the biggest differences between the Anunnaki-Ulema’s Mind and humans’ concept of soul.
- 8. The Mind (Soul to others) does not evolve or acquire more knowledge and wisdom by returning to Earth, and reincarnating in other human bodies, because neither the human body, nor Earth’s teachings surpass the level and standards of the teachings of the Anunnaki, and the amount of knowledge to be gained in higher dimensions. 9. Thus, your Mind (Soul) should go somewhere else to acquire more elevated knowledge and purify itself. The corrupt and contaminated environment of Earth and human beings' societies do not allow the Mind (Soul) to reach a higher level of enlightenment.

- 10. Earth is the lowest habitat in the universe.
- 11. And humans are the lowest living thinking creatures in the universe. Returning to Earth as a reincarnated soul will defeat all purposes.
- 12. Instead, the Mind (Soul) searches for a purified level of existence, increases its mental (Spiritual to others) qualities, and evolves where the ultimate purification and intelligence (Spirituality to others) exist. Earth is not such a place! And humans are not those pure and ultimately developed beings to help your soul to reach perfection and ultimate goodness.
- 13. There is no logic to the idea of the reincarnation of the soul and its return to Earth. You have been here before, and you have seen how people treat people. You heard so many contradicting ideas and teachings about the truth, the human salvation, the true prophets, the elaborate speeches of your preachers and teachers, and so on. You have heard them once, twice, and zillion of times…it is more than enough.
- 14. If you return again to Earth, you will hear over and over again the same old stories.
- 15. Perhaps new streets were paved, and new names given to new companies, and new car are designed, but do all these things help your soul? Don't you think if your soul goes somewhere else, where there are no greed, no wars, no killings, no violence, no hatred, no fanaticism, no racism, no mistreating animals, and no betrayal…it would be far better and more beneficial to your soul?

- 16. Why Jesus, Mohammad, Moses, Einstein, and the prophets of God did not return to Earth? This, you will figure it out on your own!
- 17. The Mind (Soul to others) is not stagnant. It evolves, and continues to evolve and progress for hundreds of thousands of years after death on planet “Ard” (Earth); the deterioration of the physical body, that is.
- 18. But in order to evolve, the Mind (Soul) must reach a higher sphere of knowledge and goodness. And that sphere begins with the Fifth dimension.

On the Fifth Dimension.

Master Horrowitz said:

- 1. The Fifth dimension is just the beginning, because there are seven dimensions.
- 2. Six dimensions constitute the world of the after-life for humans. Only three are known to humans.
- 3. The Seventh dimension is reserved to the “Khalek” (Creator of the human race).
- 4. No human (Mind or soul of humans) can reach and enter the Seventh dimension.
- 5. I mentioned seven dimensions only, because these are the world beyond for the humans.
- 6. We start on Earth, because we were created by the Anunnaki on Earth. And from Earth, we go higher. And higher means the other six dimensions.
- 7. The world of humans (Physical and non-physical) is made out of these dimensions that constitute the beginning, the end and the entire human world.
- 8. Other living entities on other planets and stars have different universes, different places for their after-life and the world beyond.
- 9. They evolve differently.
- 10. They have different Khalek (Different Creator, or different God).
- 11. For each universe, there is a different Khalek. The Greek philosophers and sages of ancient civilizations on Earth were not stupid. They mentioned it in their writings and secret doctrines, but they did not figure it right.
- 12. In the Anunnaki’s metaphysics, there are no pagan gods, but a continuum of intelligence and creation. A sort of “All that Is”.
- 13. Humans do not reincarnate in the after-life.

- 14. Humans through their Mind (Soul to others) move from one dimension to another dimension, and this could take hundreds of thousands of years.
- 15. First, humans (Mind of the humans) must reach the perfect state of purification.
- 16. Next, humans (Mind of Humans) must acquire the “Soudk” (The ultimate knowledge and truth).
- 17. This is usually acquired in the Fifth dimension, not in the Fourth dimension.
- 18. In the Fifth dimension, humans who are no longer humans but divine beings, retain many of the earthly properties they acquired on Earth (The Good ones), and receive extraordinary faculties and capabilities, such as:

*** *** ***

The Fifth Dimension is a wonderful place, where all of you reach the state of quasi-perfection.

There, fantastic phenomena occur, such as:

a-Bending time,
b-Bending space,
c-Mental teleportation to the entire six dimensions, d-Reversing Spatial Memory, e-Creating new living creatures, f-Taking part in the creation of new universes; g-Shifting space’s frontiers; h-Superposing parallel dimensions; i-Inhabiting simultaneously multiple universes; j-Identifying all the Ba’abs and Madkals, k-Influencing destinies;
l-Creating entities’ blueprints; m-Accelerating time;
n-Reversing time;
o-Halting time and distances’ dilatation, p-And of course interacting with living creatures in all the dimensions and Earth as well.

This is how the purified and noble Mind (Soul to others), evolves, transmigrates and reincarnates in the world beyond.
Reincarnation in the after-life is simply acquiring extraordinary knowledge and faculties, always according to the blueprint and ever-evolving nature of humans as created by the Anunnaki.

On the collective mind's transmigration phenomenon:

- 1. Another fascinating aspect of the Mind's reincarnation in the after-life is the collective Mind's transmigration phenomenon, where all Minds through the Conduit tap into the cosmic depot of ultimate knowledge; an infinite registry of supernatural powers and a cosmic library of all what there is in the universe.
- 2. Fortunately to humans, they can benefit enormously from the pure Minds (Souls, Spirits of the departed loved ones, to others) and the positive energies of the after life's dimensions though guided contacts.
- 3. You are not alone on Earth, in the universe, and in the after-life.
- 4. There are noble entities who are watching over you.
- 5. Some are unreachable; others are so close to you.
- 6. There is hope for all of you, only if you try to free yourselves from greed, hatred, envy and violence.
- 7. One way to start this to talk to you Double, or to your Mind.
- 8. If this notion is hard to swallow, never mind, call your Double "Conscience", if this makes you feel better.

On the frontiers of the world beyond; Nibiru, the Anunnaki’s physical and non-physical dimensions

Question(s): Do we live in dimensions according to what the Anunnaki have created?
How many dimensions are related to us and to the Anunnaki?
And where do these dimensions and the world of the Anunnaki start?

Answer (Kira'at Format):
There are two Anunnaki's worlds: "Sama" and "Falak".

The first world:

- 1. The first world is called Sama "Shamah".
- 2. Sama "Shamah" is where the Anunnaki and several other extraterrestrial races live.
- 3. Sama is a physical sphere for the Anunnaki. To other galactic races, Sama could be both physical and bio-mental.
- 4. Sama existed in the universe, billions of years before planet Earth and the human race were created.
- 5. Sama is a physical world. Its atmospheric properties vary from one planet to another planet, and from one star to another star.
- 6. For instance, Ashtari (Nibiru to others) has quasi-similar Earth's atmosphere, however the air is denser, the climate is heavier, the days are longer, and it has four celestial objects orbiting it.
- 7. Although humans could live on Ashtari (Nibiru), certain surgical operations are needed to allow the human body to adapt to the new atmospheric conditions and environment on Ashtari (Nibiru).
- 8. So, the physical world of the Anunnaki would allow humans to continue to live outside planet earth, and inhabit Ashtari.

- 9. You could call Sama the bodily world of humans. Because they can travel to Sama and live on Sama as physical creatures.
- 10. Sometimes we refer to Sama as “Maddi”, meaning the physical dimension outside planet earth.
- 11. Maddi has living conditions almost similar to those on planet Earth. Maddi has weather, trees, lakes, plains, mountains, cities, streets, etc.
- 12. In other words, the Sama is the world of the living human beings, and extraterrestrials.
- 13. It starts outside our solar system; billions of light years separate planet earth from Sama.
- 14. Bashar (Humans) have not reached Sama yet.
- 15. But extraterrestrials have reached planet eErth some 500,000 years ago (More or less).
- 16. Some extraterrestrial races are still on planet earth, and have offspring and descendants living among us.

Note:
I have described in detail Sama (Maddi) and the living conditions of the Anunnaki on Ashtari in my book “What Extraterrestrials and Anunnaki Want You to Know”, published in 2008.

The second world:

- 1. The second world is called Falak (Dounia). It is not a physical world.
- 2. No living human beings as physical creatures live in this second world.
- 3. You have to remember that physical objects including human beings cannot enter a non-physical world. Thus, Falak (Dounia) is not a world where human beings could live with their physical bodies.
- 4. Falak (Dounia) is the world of the human mind.
- 5. The human mind was created by the Anunnaki.

- 6. The human mind can manifest itself as the Double of a physical body.
- 7. Falak (Dounia) consists of seven different “Woujoud”, meaning existences.
- 8. Three of these Woujoud already exist in a physical-nonphysical sphere of illusion, called “Kha-Da’h”. Planet earth is one of these three existences.
- 9. But these three existences do not count as meaningful dimensions. This is why we start counting with the Fourth dimension as the first sphere of Falak (Dounia).
- 10. The first Woujoud is known to us and to others as the Fourth dimension, and it is called “Nafis-Ra”.
- 11. The second Woujoud is known to us and to others as the Fifth dimension, and it is called “Fik’r-Ra”.
- 12. The third Woujoud is known to us and to others as the Sixth dimension, and it is called “Kadosh-Ra” or “Koudous-Ra”.
- 13. The fourth Woujoud is known to us and to others as the Seventh dimension, and it is called “Khalek-Ra”.
- 14. In other words, the Falak (Dounia) is the world of human beings who continue to live through their mind. Extraterrestrials of a very high vibrational state could share this sphere with the purified mind of humans (The deceased ones).
- 15. Falak (Dounia) starts as soon as we die. It is neither outside nor inside our solar system, and no light years separate humans from any dimension or state of existence in Falak (Dounia) - 16. Some Bashar (Human beings) have already reached different vibrational levels and spheres (Zones) in Falak (Dounia).

On the dimensions created for us by the Anunnaki.

Question:
Do we live in dimensions according to what the Anunnaki have created?

Note:
This is one of the most frequently asked questions by novices and students.
Generally, the Ulema are not concerned with issues of a metaphysical nature, because they do not believe that the physical world is completely separated from the non-physical world. They do not see the universe the way we do. Therefore, everything is part of something else.

Answer of the Anunnaki-Ulema:

An Ulema once said, talking to a student: 1. Even this rock and this tree leaf are part of you. We are made of the same material." (Author's note: This could be interpreted metaphorically, but there is a deep scientific veracity attached to it.) 2. Yes, a rock is a rock. It is physical. It is real. You can touch it and you can weight it.

- 3. But that's not all…it is not all of it, because it has an additional dimension you can't see with your eyes. It does not start and end where you start to touch it, and where you finish touching it.
- 4. Once, your "Rou'ya" (Third Eye to others) opens up, you begin to see a larger size of the rock, and discover its hidden properties…

- 5. This is why we call Earth, the life we live, our desires and our ambitions ILLUSION.”
- 6. Yes, you live in physical and non-physical dimensions according to what the Anunnaki have created…

Author’s note: I will mention herewith parts of his answers that are related to the question:

- 7. The Anunnaki have created you on Earth to serve their needs.
- 8. Their intentions were to create a race that could carry heavy physical load and do intense physical labor.
- 9. This was the initial and prime objective.
- 10. Thus, the “Naphsiya” (DNA) they put in all of you had limited lifespan, and mental faculties.
- 11. Later on, they discovered that they had to prolong the human lifespan and add more developed mental faculties, so they added the “Hara-Kiya” (Internal energy or physical strength).
- 12. Few generations later, the early human beings stock evolves considerably, because the Anunnaki added fully operational Mind in the human body.
- 13. To do so, the Anunnaki installed into your brains, a Conduit with limited capabilities.
- 14. In the same time, this Conduit was also installed into the prototype of the human body.
- 15. Thus, through the Mind, the physical body of the humans got linked to the Double.
- 16. This non-physical link created a Fourth dimension for all of you.
- 17. In fact, it did not create a Fourth dimension per se, rather it activated it.
- 18. So now, at that stage, human beings had a physical dimension (Life on earth), and not-a-totally separated non-physical dimension (Zone) called “Nafis-Ra” on the ethereal level.

- 19. So, yes, Bashar (Humans) became destined to acquire two dimensions, as exactly the Anunnaki decided.
- 20. Later on, centuries upon centuries, the human mind began to evolve, because the other Mind, call it now the Double or prototype began to evolve simultaneously and in sync.
- 21. The more the prototype (First specimen of mankind) is advanced, the more “Physical Mind” becomes alert, creative and multidimensional.
- 22. But you are not trapped, and your mind is no longer conditioned by the Anunnaki.
- 23. The Anunnaki gave you all the choices, opportunities, free will, and freedom to learn on your own, decide on personal matters, select and progress.
- 24. This is why you are accountable and responsible for everything you do and think about.
- 25. Because of the evolution of your mind, the realization (From within) of an inner and deeper knowledge of your surroundings, and understanding what is right and what is wrong, a major mental faculty emerged in all of you. You have called it: Conscience.

On the Fourth Dimension

Question:
Is the Fourth Dimension the world beyond?

Answer of the Anunnaki-Ulema:

- 1. Not totally.
- 2. It is just the beginning of the world beyond.
- 3. As you progress in the after-life, you will discover new dimensions and new forms of life.
- 4. Human beings live simultaneously in two dimensions. One, which you are aware of, you sense it and you see it, the other, you could reach it and understand it through:
- a- Your mind, b- Communicating with your Double, c- Mental introspection, d- A pure diet, e- Projection of thoughts, f- A physical-mental retreat that opens your Conduit.

On a dead person who was not so bad during his life and admittance to the other world

Question:

What happens to a person who is not bad, but not a very good person when he dies and right before he reaches the Ba’ab?
Note: Question asked by a Ma’had novice.

Answer:

- 1. At the moment of death, he will be guided by his Double to a “neutral sphere” where he will spend 40 days of purification.

- 2. During those 40 days, he will receive guidance and orientation from his “Double”.
- 3. Because he was not a bad person, at the end of the 40 days period, and right before going through the Ba’ab, he will be allowed to revisit the living he wishes to see one more time.

- 4. Also, he will be permitted to hover over places he wishes to visit for the last time.
- 5. In some instances, the visited parents of the deceased feel his last apparition to them. Usually, the deceased appears to them in an ethereal form.

- 6. It is not totally ectoplasmic, because at that stage, the deceased has already lost all the physical properties of his body.
- 7. So his apparition is mental holography.

- 8. The apparition does not last long. It fades way within a few seconds. And this is the last message (Sort of a Farewell), the parents will receive from him/her.
- 9. After that last visit, no contact will ever occur again between the dead person and his/her loved ones.

- 10. His/her mind (Soul to others) will leave Earth for ever.
- 11. Do not be duped by those who claim, that they can contact the dead and communicate with the spirits.

- 12. Be aware of fake spirits’ séances and channeling.
- 13. Unless, the mind (Soul or Spirit to others) initiates a contact during particular stages, no living being on earth can communicate with the dead.

- 14. Contact with dead people is possible, if the enlightened one has been granted the privilege to go through Al Madkhal and the Ba’ab.
- 15. On the last day of the 40 days period, the deceased is zoomed into his/her Double, and becomes one with his “Original Form”.

- 16. The Original Form is what it created him/her. This is why we call it Double.
- 17. The Double is the real persona of the human being.

- 18. Everything we have in our body and mind came from our Double.
- 19. Even though, some of our mental and physical faculties and properties are usually damaged on earth for various reasons, such as illness, malnutrition, fear, prejudices, tortures, confusion, etc., the original faculties in our Double are immune, because the physical cannot affect the non-physical, nor reach any dimension beyond the “Zinar” (Belt of Earth).

- 20. As soon as the deceased becomes one with the Double, the mind enters the Ba’ab on its way to the Fourth dimension.
- 21. The Fourth dimension is a sphere so close to earth. And because the mind of the deceased in this dimension is capable of mental and spatial dilatation, quite often, the mind and the perimeter of the fourth dimension extend like an echo.

- 22. It is through the extension of that echo, that contacts with the fourth dimension’s inhabitants are possible, but they are so rare.
- 23. Almost, they never happen.

- 24. Once, the mind (The deceased or visiting entity) enters the Fourth dimension, the deceased begins to see all sorts of things, shapes, colors, entities, human forms, spiritual forms created by his/her memory.
- 25. It is a very pleasant sphere consisting of only good sensations, a sense of tranquility and safety.

- 26. From now on, we will never again feel pain, sorrow, fatigue…no more worries, frustration and anxiety.
- 27. Yet, the Fourth dimension is not a perfect dimension, even though we are reunited with friends and beloved ones, even our pets, for we have to progress and reach a higher dimension.

- 28. The Fifth dimension is better and prettier.
- 29. Within it, there are so many other worlds of an unimaginable beauty, and so many wonderful things to see and do…

On the Matrix of Man, Matrix of the Universe, Life, Yoga, and Chakras Question: What is an Anunnaki's Matrix?

Note: The general meaning of a "Matrix" is what constitutes the beginning of something that creates everything. According to the Ulema, the Matrix is the Alpha and Omega. To some noted spiritualist ufologists, the Matrix is the grid of events and the place of Man in the universe, vis-à-vis extraterrestrials and supreme entities from galactic civilizations.

To some adepts of Yoga and cosmic awareness, the matrix is "something that constitutes the place or point from which something else originates, takes forms, or develops from During one of the meetings that allegedly took place at the Four Seasons Hotel in Georgetown, Northwest, in Washington, DC, between Sinhar Ambar Anati, an Anunnaki envoy and a group of officials and scientists representing the United States, and consisting of civilian and military scientists, members of NSA, CIA, scientists-astrophysicists-cosmologists from NASA, two generals from the United States Air force, and a representative from The White House, the subject of an extraterrestrial Matrix was brought up, when Sinhar Ambar Anati spoke very briefly about the Zinar, the cosmic protective shield surrounding the orbit of planet Earth.

But no specific details or any data were given to the Americans or to any living creature on planet Earth. In fact, and as of today, no ufologist, psychic, prophet, contactee, or a visionary writer has ever defined and/or explained what an Anunnaki Matrix is, but the Anunnaki did!

Scientific information and specific data about the Anunnaki Matrix, its contents, nature, scope, location, dimensions, role, its relation to the Zinar, and impact on the human race cannot be obtained through channeling and fantasizing about it through meditation, Yoga practice and mediumship as almost 99% of channelers and UFO's contactees claim. It is impossible.

Only legitimate science can achieve this.

The Anunnaki-Ulema Matrix: The Near Eastern manuscripts about the Anunnaki-Ulema Matrix were written in Phoenician, Aramaic and Anak'h, and interlocked into mixed phrases that contained all the three ancient languages, thus making it impossible to decipher its codes and meaning.

The epistemology and vocabulary of the texts are beyond the reach of any linguist, unless he/she is extremely well-versed in those three languages interchangeably.

The only linguists capable of understanding and translating those coded texts were the Ulema themselves, and they are not about to broadcast their secret doctrine and knowledge, nor sell their wisdom as a commercial product on world market.

Only the initiated and the enlightened ones had the opportunity to read those texts. As of today, the secrecy was not breached; there are no leaks and no betrayal, no conspiracy theorists and no whistleblowers among the Ulema.

Consequently, if you are not one of them, you will never be able to learn and understand the entire secret doctrine of the Anunnaki-Ulema Matrix. However, I am going to introduce you to some of their teachings, and Kira'ats on the subject; you will have plenty of material to learn from.

There is only one person in the entire Western world who knew about the Anunnaki-Ulema Matrix; she is Ambar Anati, a wonderful Middle Eastern-American lady who claimed to be an Anunnaki-Human-Hybrid woman.
Fiction?
It did not matter to me. I had no doubts about her claims and statements, because indeed, she had access to those secret manuscripts, and she was perfectly capable of translating the ancient languages I mentioned before, and deciphering their codes.
In summary, what you are about to read comes directly from the original sources.

Some of these sources are:

- a-The Book of Rama-Dosh, b-Shams Al Maaref Al Koubra (The Secret Unpublished Doctrine, not the fake, phony and commercialized published book in Cairo around 1945.) c-Kira'ats and teachings of the Ulema; d-Manuscript: Mouka-Damat Madkhal-Wa-MalaKoot; (Written in Aramaic, Phoenician, Ancient Tribal Arabic and Anak'h.) e-Revelations by Sinhar Ambar Anati.
- f-My dialogues with Ulema Dr. Farid Tayarah, Rabbi Mordachai, Sheik Alkabir, and Sheik Al Mutawalli.

The Anunnaki Matrix is many things indeed. It is larger than anything the human mind could possibly imagine. It contains the entire past, present and future of multiple dimensions and civilizations, including planet Earth, and the human races.

There are three Matrices known to mankind:

- 1-The Anunnaki's Matrix, 2-The Ulema's Matrix, 3-The Humans' Matrix.

And each Matrix has its own dimensions, contents, and scope. However, the Anunnaki's Matrix includes the Ulema's Matrix, the Ulema's Matrix includes the Humans' Matrix, and the Human's Matrix includes exclusively our habitat on planet Earth.

Content of the Anunnaki Matrix: This Matrix is extremely complicated, because it is written in codes, symbols, geometrical forms, chemical formulas, theorems, and in all the languages that have existed, still exist, and will be invented in the future after 2022.
In other words, it is a cosmic library, archives, and depository of all the knowledge and events of 5 billions years, the estimated date of the beginning of the universe. Of course, there are so many fascinating and mind-bending information in this Matrix that have captivated academicians and leading scientists in the Eastern and Western hemispheres.

Cosmology, Science and Immortality:
The fifth unknown element of our DNA.
If you are a scientist, you will be flabbergasted by the Matrix' scientific data, for it contains all the explanations of the creation of our universe (Solar system, all stars, planets and galaxies known to us.) Included in this data are detailed descriptions and explanations of:

- a-Primordial bio-engineering of terrestrial life (Elements, nature, animals, and humans.)
- b-Building blocks of life, and how they acted like cells to produce life on earth.

- c-DNA's fifth unknown element: So far, scientists on earth have discovered 4 elements in our DNA: Cytosine, Thymine, Adenine and Guanine.

In the Anunnaki's Matrix, there is a fifth element called "I-Bra. Ah", meaning transcending time and space in the Ana'kh language. The Ulema coined it "Niktat Alkhou-Lood", and it means verbatim: The point of the beginning of immortality.

In other words, the fifth unknown element is responsible for an extraordinary longevity of mankind on planet Earth, and/or its immortality. It is very possible said an Ulema that after 2022, humans will learn about the secret of immortality, but will never be able to decode the composition and sequences of the fifth element.
It would be a catastrophe for humanity and for the future of planet earth, if humans succeed in decoding the data contained in the fifth element. Many Ulema are not seriously worried, because with the arrival of the Anunnaki in 2022, the existence of human life and its continuity will be in the hands of the Anunnaki.

RNA and life evolution: In addition to the DNA, the Anunnaki's Matrix gives detailed information about the RNA, which is a ribonucleic acid, a close cousin of deoxyribonucleic acid or DNA.
RNA is a polymer of ribonucleoside-phosphates. Its backbone is comprised of alternating ribose and phosphate groups. Ribose is a five carbon sugar that is found in a puranose, or five-membered ring, form in RNA. The phosphate groups link consecutive ribose groups and each bears one negative charge. Each monomer also has a nitrogenous base for a side chain.
The four commonly found side chains in RNA are adenine, cytosine, guanine and uracil. Several other bases are occasionally found in RNAs including: Thymine, pseudouridine and methylated cytosine and guanine. Inside of cells, there are three major types of RNA: 1-Messenger RNA (mRNA),
2-Transfer RNA (tRNA),
3-Ribosomal RNA (rRNA).

The Anunnaki's Matrix includes a fifth base in the RNA chain, and it is called in Anak'h "Ta-Tawur-Ankh".
The Ulema interpreted it as the "Evolution of life on earth".
The Anunnaki explained how this fifth base created the primordial molecules that duplicated themselves and consequently started the life evolution cycles on planet Earth.
It is really mind-boggling.
Apparently, scientists in the United States, the United Kingdom and Switzerland are studying this possibility.
They don't say much about their research for obvious reasons.
Whistleblowers in American ufology communities are spreading rumors that military scientists and civilian geneticists are conducting advanced experiments on the RNA's fifth base in underground secret military bases in the United States, and at a genetic laboratory in a remote area in Mexico.
These rumors are part of the infernal and phantasmagoric scenario and backdrop of UFO, extraterrestrials' agenda, and conspiracies' theories. The fifth base has not yet been publicly and officially announced by the scientific community.
But those who have access to privileged sources of information know very well, that the RNA's fifth base research and studies are an ongoing American secret military-scientific project.

The creation of a new super human race in 2022.
One one of the coded "Cadrans" of the Anunnaki's Matrix, stunning information and dates about the creation and origin of the human races, were given and written in Ana'kh, and in a language similar to the early Phoenician language that was spoken before Tyre, Sidon and Byblos were established.
I will come back to this subject in the next paragraphs.

The Anunnaki's Matrix explains how new human specie shall be genetically created by them after 2022.

One passage tells how:

- a-The Anunnaki in a preliminary stage, will clean human contamination caused by other extraterrestrial races currently living among us. The Zeta Reticulians figure predominantly in the Cadran.
- b-The Anunnaki will decide on the fate of humanity through a selection process and the procedures of the ascension to the Ba'abs.
- c-The new human race shall not be created from earthly elements.
- d-Our physical bodies will disintegrate, and a new DNA will instantly create new fully-grown uncontaminated bodies.
- e-A fifth element will be added to the new human DNA.
- f-This fifth element will allow the newly created humans to acquire new physical properties-specifications, and mental and scientific capabilities, such as: 1- Mind transmission, 2- Cure for fatal diseases, 3- An extremely extended longevity, 4- Transposition of time-space, meaning the ability to travel to the past and to parallel dimensions.

Summary of the most important revelations:

The Anunnaki's Matrix mentioned clay as one of the primordial ingredients or elements they have used to create the human race. It is extremely important to understand the real meaning of the word clay.
There is no way, that in one single book, I could summarize all the data and information of the Anunnaki's Matrix as revealed to the Ulema. It would take millions of volumes. However, before leaving you, I would like to briefly mention some of the most meaningful revelations of the Matrix as collected and interpreted by the Ulema: 1. Earth is surrounded by a network of Ba’abs consisting of 700 stargates.

- 2. These stargates are the Madkhals to the other world.
- 3. The Anunnaki will return to earth in 2022.
- 4. A clash with the Anunnaki is inevitable.
- 5. A new human race will be created by the Anunnaki starting in 2022.
- 6. Earth will have a global contact with other friendly extraterrestrial races by 2022-2023.
- 7. Many of earth’s major religions will disappear by 2022.
- 8. Many cities on earth are located above negative cosmic currents running beneath the surface of earth.
- 9. The negative energies (Faasida) of those lines cause psychosomatic disturbances and severe illnesses and diseases.
- 10. Some of those lines are extremely intense under the surface of many cities in the United States. To name a few: Brooklyn, New York, Washington, D.C., Alabama, New Orleans, Louisiana, and Nevada.
- 11. The Ulema said that in order to create a healthier home environment, the interior of your living-quarters must be in harmony with nature, because your home furniture, interior design and atmosphere influence your psychological state of mind, your emotions, temper, physical and mental health, as well as your relationships with parents, children, neighbors and business.

- 12. The location and placements of ornamental objects, chairs, bookcases, sofas, and every single item inside your home affect the energy flow in your home, and your personal health in your living environment.
- 13. Whether you believe or not, your rapport with your Double, the development of greater mental faculties, and your peace of mind are greatly influenced by the layout of your home.
- 14. Too much metal and sharp objects inside your home block mental development.
- 15. Too much junk in your home disorient the flux of positive energies.
- 16. To bring serenity to your home, to enhance your mental health, and to create and develop inspirational and motivational stimuli, your home should have for instance: a-Plants, b-Books, c-Windows that welcome the sunlight and fresh air, d-A small fountain with running water is extremely helpful, or simply a bowl instead of a fountain, e-And if you can…enjoy the company of pets…
- f-And don’t forget to always open your doors to the needy and welcome friends with warmth and a genuine smile…

On immortality and a position of a widow meeting multiple husbands afterlife.

Question:

If human beings can reach immortality and live for ever in the other world, where they reunite with their loved ones, what would be the position, reaction and obligations of a widow who married other men after the death of her first husband, when she meets them afterlife in other dimension?

Note: A question asked by a Ma’had novice.

Answer of the Anunnaki-Ulema.
Master Kanazawa:

- 1. Since we do believe that life continues after death, multiple marriages could cause a state of mental confusion, and perhaps embarrassment for the deceased widow who remarried after the death of the departed spouse…
- 2. This could happen upon meeting multiple husbands or wives in the early stage in the Fourth dimension.

- 3. But once the Mind is purified, and as we progress mentally and spiritually, we begin to see and understand the situation very differently…
- 4. In higher dimensions…afterlife, the Mind functions, sees and understands things very very differently from the way we were accustomed to on earth.

- 5. The deceased continues to live after death as a Mind.
- 6. The Mind retains terrestrial memory, even though the Mind has lost all sensorial properties.

- 7. The Mind cannot alter the past. We are stuck with the memory of everything we have done on earth. Only the Anunnaki who created us genetically can alter the past of the person they have created.
- 8. And by altering the past, the Anunnaki can erase all kinds of memories, including related events that occurred in one particular dimension.

- 9. This is applicable only when a person has been created on earth by an Anna.Ki (Anunnaki). I said on earth, because there are so many different beings who were created by other creators governing other planets, stars and dimensions.
- 10. It is a very unique story with human beings and animals who live on earth. On our planet, we multiply through “Mouda-Ja’ah” (Intercourse).

- 11. On other planets, reproduction is done through different processes and methods; no physical contacts or sexual acts are necessary.
- 12. Thus, there are no physical attachments, no corporal desire, and no sense of being physically possessed by another person, or committed to a physical partner.

- 13. The collective mind of the community on some other planets substitutes for sexual desires, lust for the flesh, and corporal pleasures.
- 14. Because humans can reach immortality in other dimensions starting in the Fifth dimension, freeing ourselves from physical memories is essential; this is done in the Fourth dimension.

- 15. Once the purification is complete, and as soon as the process of freeing ourselves from past corporal memories is done, the Mind readjusts itself accordingly.
- 16. This means, that almost everything we loved or treasured on earth, such as wealth, owning a luxurious car, properties, nice wardrobe, sexual pleasures, etc., become meaningless and shallow.

- 17. This is why, we, the human beings…we are the lowest form of living entities in the universe, and our habitat “Ard” (Planet Earth) is lowest form of habitat in the universe.
- 18. This decadence is caused by greed, violence, egoism, betrayal, and sexual bondage.

- 19. Now, we go back to the deceased who is meeting the multiple spouses he/she had after the death of the first partner in life.
- 20. The deceased will not feel embarrassed at all, because the Mind in the afterlife, once it has been purified, begins to understand that physical attachment causes sorrow and grief.

- 21. Because there are no more sexual desires and lust in the afterlife, these desires lose their meaning and importance.
- 22. This is applicable to all non-physical zones.

- 23. Consequently, the position of the deceased widow who is now pure Mind changes completely.
- 24. Multiple spouses are no longer looked upon as multiple spouses, because they have acquired different nature and composition, and the association of the Mind with their physical properties on earth is integrated into the collective mind of the community.

- 25. Thus, all of them will continue to live, think, and interact with each other as a continuous sequence of the chain of immortality free of physical attachment.

On the German UFOs

Questions: Did the Anunnaki or any other extraterrestrial race give the Nazis any secret and advanced technology to built UFOs?

- Did the United States government as we were told capture secret files on German UFOs?
- If yes, is it possible that top secret airplanes like the Aurora were secretly built according to German UFOs blueprints?

Note: The Ulema did not answer all these questions. It is very obvious, that the honorable Ulema are not deeply interested in the UFOs as flying machines, despite the fact that they have plenty of amazing information on the subject of UFOs, secret military operations and programs on exotic weapons, and especially alien technology.
I remember what Master Gupa once told me: “UFOs are simply a piece of metal. What we are interested in is the place and role of Man on the galactic landscape, and the future of humanity.”
Briefly, Master Oppenheimer answered one question, and I am herewith reproducing his answer. However, because the subject of Nazi UFOs has captured the imagination and wild interest of the public, I took the liberty to provide you with an in-depth research and findings summary on the topic, following the Master’s reply.

Answer of Master Oppenheimer: 1. The Anunnaki never cooperated with the Nazi on any military project.

2. In fact, the Anunnaki never returned to Earth.
3. The Anunnaki are your creators and your makers. They don’t need to negotiate with the human beings; they don’t interfere in your daily affairs; they do not influence or control governments; and they do not create wars on Earth.

4. The Anunnaki have no interest in communicating with the human race. And for this reason, people of the Earth should understand that no harm will ever come from the Anunnaki.
5. However, they will return to Earth in 2022 to put an end to all the troubles, the injustice, the cruelty, the violence, the greed and destructive military and governments’ unjustified acts of war and vicious expansionism.
6. In part, they feel responsible for the atrocious behavior of the human race, because they have created the mankind according to their specifications.
7. These specifications were implanted in your genes, DNA, and “Naphsiya” (Mind/First source of energy).
8. Having said that, you should realize by now, that the Anunnaki do not, and did not encourage any form of violence on Earth.
9. Military aircrafts are usually designed as a tool of war. Thus, aircrafts, or UFOs, or any other type of military flying machines are considered tools of violence, aggression and destruction.
10. However, there is a non-human race, you may call it extraterrestrial (In origin) if you wish, that had collaborated with an occult group in Germany, and provided its leaders with vital information on how to construct formidable spaceships that defy human logic, and the laws of physics, as understood by mankind.
11. This German occult group fell into the hands of some German scientists of the Third Reich.
12. German military scientists were provided with blueprints of a very advanced type of crafts that were produced one year before the end of the Second World War.

13. Few prototypes of super aircrafts were manufactured, and flew successfully.
14. None of these super aircrafts took part in any military operation during the war.
15. However, some were spotted by American and British pilots who had no clues what these super aircrafts were!
16. Few German super aircrafts survived the war, and were secretly transported to the North Pole.
17. Some of these German super aircrafts were captured by the American military.
18. I am not in liberty to tell you more about this very sensitive and delicate subject.

On the real meaning of the word “Clay” as mentioned in the Akkadian/Sumerian texts.

Question:
Did the Anunnaki use clay to create Man? I mean real clay? Was it the clay they found near the Euphrates River?

Answers of the Anunnaki-Ulema.
Master Gupta said:

- 1. Clay is NOT what everybody understood or thought to be, from reading the translations of the Sumerian texts.
- 2. It is not the earthly clay found in ancient Sumer on the Tigris and Euphrates banks.
- 3. The Anunnaki's Matrix explained and defined it very very differently. Nevertheless, Judaism, Christianity and Islam got hooked on clay.
- 4. And scholars who have translated the Sumerian texts and/or interpreted them made a huge mistake when they referred to clay as the mud or dirt substance the Anunnaki found in ancient Iraq, and mixed it with their DNA to create mankind.

The role of clay or dust in the creation of Man according to Judaism, Christianity and Islam:

Judaism, Christianity and Islam tell us that Man was created in part from the dirt or dust of the earth. Some passages of the Quran explain that Man was created from a germ. The ancient Phoenician texts mentioned clay and seas shells. How did the theologians know about clay, dust or dirt? Where did the ideas of clay, sea shells and dirt come from?

Most recently, cosmologists and leading figures in genetic engineering in the United Kingdom have advanced revolutionary theories about how a sort of clay originated life on planet earth, including our own.

We will have a glance at their theories at the end of this section. But first, let's have a look at the religious scriptures that have mentioned clay as one of the substances God used to create us, and compare them to the Anunnaki's Matrix.

According to the Living Shariah, Sheikh Muhammad Mutwalli Ash-Sha`rawi, and The Quran.

The Quran’s explanation:

The Qur'an speaks in so many verses about the creation of man. In one verse, we are told that man is created from dust. Allah (God) says: "O mankind! If ye are in doubt concerning the Resurrection, then lo! We have created you from dust, then from a drop of seed, then from a clot, then from a little lump of flesh shapely and shapeless, that We may make it clean for you. And We cause what We will to remain in the wombs for an appointed time, and afterward We bring you forth as infants, then give you growth that ye attain your full strength. And among you there is he who dieth young, and among you there is he who is brought back to the most abject time of life, so that, after knowledge, he knoweth naught." (Al-Hajj: 5) This is one stage of the creation.

The Qur'an refers to another stage in the verse:
"Verily We created man from a product of wet earth. Then placed him as a drop of seed in a safe lodging; Then fashioned We the drop a clot, then fashioned We the clot a little lump, then fashioned We the little lump bones, then clothed the bones with flesh, and then produced it another creation. So blessed be Allah, the Best of Creators!" (Al-Mu'minun: 12-14)
And here is another passage: “"Adam is the father of all mankind.
He was the progenitor of the human race. He is reckoned to be the first prophet by Muslims. He was also the first man whom Almighty Allah created from the elements of clay.

The gradual process of man's physical development has been referred to in the following verses of the Qur'an: “He began the creation of man from dust.
Then He made his progeny of an extract of water held in light esteem. Then He made him complete and breathed into him of His spirit and made for you ears and eyes and heart.” (As-Sajdah: 7-9)

Man’s beginning in clay pottery flasks:

Because Sara was Abraham’s half-sister, their child (Isaac) had precedence over Ishmael even though Ishmael was older. “He created man from clay like pottery.”-Quran 55:14. This – as well as all the created from clay passages – refers to man’s beginning in clay pottery flasks. Egyptian history says Ptah (Enki) created man on a potter’s wheel. Other cultures also say that man was created in clay pottery. “And certainly We created man from an extract from clay.”-Quran23: 12.
The Anunnaki used an element found in clay to “bind” the genetic fusion of man with Anunnaki DNA. But man was far from perfect. He had innumerable defects.” -Verses from the Quran, referred to by Amir Fatir.

The Judeo-Christian tradition: According to the Judeo-Christian tradition, we were created from earth’s dust in the image of God. And God said, “Let us make man in Our image after our likeness.”-Genesis 1:26.
According to the ufologists and others, the “us” refers to the Anunnaki’s Assembly who authorized Enki to fashion a Lulu slave laborer. The Anunnaki’s DNA was used to give him physical resemblance to the creators.
From Genesis 2:7 “Then the Lord God formed man of dust from the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breadth of life; and man became a living being.”
And from Genesis 2:18-22: “Then the Lord God said 'It is not good for the man to be alone; I will make him a helper suitable for him. So the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon the man; and he slept; then He took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh at that place. And the Lord God fashioned into a woman the rib which He had taken from the man, and brought her to the man.”

The Sumerian is different for it requires the work of at least eight Anunnaki goddesses, a mother-goddess, plus the initial assistance of the Anunnaki Maha-Sinhar Enki

The Anunnaki-Ulema's interpretation and explanation of the meaning and use of clay in the creation of mankind according to the Anunnaki Matrix

Anunnaki, extraterrestrials, God, and the origin of man and life on earth:
The fascinating aspect of the Ulema's interpretation is its scientific explanation which appeals to some of the world's most illustrious scientists and cosmologists, particularly geneticists, anthropologists and astro-physicists in the United Kingdom.

Here are excerpts from their dialogues and Kira'ats:

1. On planet Earth existed many different human races for millions of years. Some are known to us, while many others are totally unknown because they have vanished without leaving a trace.

- 2. The truth is that they have left many traces, but we did not discover them yet. In the near future, we will discover some of their remains, and a new chapter on the history of mankind will be written.
- 3. However, in 2003, skeletons of four vanished early forms of humans who did not look like humans were discovered by English archeologists and anthropologists, but were shrouded in secrecy, and their discoveries were never made public for many reasons. Two leading and extremely powerful Catholic theologians were behind the cover-up.

- 4. Some of those early quasi-human forms were 10 feet in height, and others less than 2 feet, and looked like hobbits.
- 5. Those species were created by various extraterrestrial races.
- 6. The Anunnaki did not take part in the creation process of these very tall and very small quasi-humans.
- 7. The extraterrestrials created them on planet earth. But there are other early human beings who were created in space, and on other planets, and like the very small and very tall species, they were not part of the evolutionary system of the modern human beings.
- 8. In total, 36 different human and quasi-human species lived on planet earth in many regions of the globe. And none of them were created by the God we know and worship. After all, they did not look like humans, and if we have to believe that humans were created in the image of God, as Judaism, Christianity and Islam tell us, then, most certainly those early 36 different species who looked like ferocious beasts, were not made in the image of God.
- 9. Because they were created in many regions of planet earth, and interbred around the globe, new horrifying species populated the Earth. So the out-of-Africa theory is entirely wrong. Humanity did neither start in, nor expand from Africa.
- 10. All those species died out after a very short lifespan, because they did not have in their brains the Anunnaki's Conduit.

The Earth-made human creatures The early quasi-human beings were created from a single cell

---

The Anunnaki-Ulema said:

1. The Anunnaki’s Matrix mentioned earth-made quasi human creatures created from one cell.
2. Those creatures were an organism that looked like bacteria. And these bacteria were in fact, the first life-form on planet earth.
3. Those creatures appeared as tiny mini-microscopic organisms that used chemical energy. They did not need the sun to grow and develop via photosynthesis.
4. In fact, those early quasi-human forms existed long before photosynthesis developed on planet earth. This explains the reason of their deformity, and horrific dysmorphic features (Dysmorphism).
5. Those creatures were Earth-made, and first appeared in Australia, Brazil, and Madagascar, not in Africa.
6. They were not created by God.

The Space-made human creatures:
Some of the very early human races were originally created in space.
Their life started within the clay found inside comets. The amazing aspect of this explanation is the fact that most recently, leading scientists and university professors in the United Kingdom have stated, that in fact, the inside of comets contains gluey material identical to heated clay.
Once this comet’s clay is mixed with earth’s water, it creates cells, molecules and membranes.
In other words: LIFE. They were not created by God.

Note: According to recent probes inside comets, British scientists have concluded that life began in space; the study was published by Cardiff scientists.

According to Professor Chandra Wickramasinghe and his colleagues at the Cardiff Centre for Astrobiology have stated that “life began inside comets and then spread to habitable planets across the galaxy.”

Metabolism and the oceans-made human creatures:
The Anunnaki’s Matrix also revealed the existence and origin of early human like creatures who lived at the bottom of the oceans.

The Ulema explained that:

- 1. One of the earliest life-forms on planet earth began at the very bottom of the oceans, where metabolism originated.
- 2. Metabolism created an early human like form.
- 3. Those creatures had a human skull, two eyes without retina, two legs and four long arms, but no nose, no ears, and no hair on their bodies.
- 4. They were called the “Basharma’h”. (Bashar means human race, and Ma’h means water.
- 5. Later on in history, these two words were added to several ancient Near and Middle East languages; Mem in Hebrew, Mayim in ancient Aramaic; Ma’ or Maay in Arabic, etc…)

Man-made humans and genetic reverse engineering of the human brain

The Ulema said that the Anunnaki’s Matrix revealed frightening American scientific progress rotating around the creation of human brains, and the implant of these man-made brains in machines capable of influencing and altering humanity’ future and mankind’s destiny.
The Anunnaki’s Matrix gave the date when these machines will become fully operational: 2021.

The Ulema said that the Anunnaki are not concerned, because their return to earth in 2022 will annihilate all these machines.

On Anunnaki's reproduction, sex, and procreation.

Questions:

- Do Anunnaki date each other like us?
- Do Anunnaki women get pregnant?
- Where do they deliver their babies?

Answers of the Anunnaki-Ulema:
Sinhar Marduck said:

- 1. The Anunnaki have long ago separated love from procreation.
- 2. The Anunnaki do marry; their unions are permanent. Once they make their choice for a life partner, they have no wish to stray and remain paired forever, like some birds do in your world.
- 3. Certainly nothing like the marriage of humans, of which fifty percent end in divorce, or worse.
- 4. The Anunnaki don't have the way humans do.
- 5. The Anunnaki's way of expressing love is through light.
- 6. When Union, as they call it, occurs, each partner starts to emit golden light.
- 7. The lights grow strong, mingle, and this mingling causes intense physical, mental, and spiritual joy.
- 8. It is much better than anything humans experience though sex, since the sensations go directly to the brain.
- 9. It is also much more beautiful, aesthetically, than any physical sex could be.

- 10. What humans do, to put it plainly, may be pleasurable, but certainly not aesthetically pleasing. And the Anunnaki partially feel responsible for this, since we have created you.
- 11. Segments on the Mesopotamian tablets, and the scrolls of Ramadosh have depicted how our lords, and our female geneticists have created your bodies; there are passages that describe very clearly how the early created human specimen had problems with the genital organs we have attached to their bodies.
- 12. We had to attach these organs for human self-reproduction, because our women have expressed their disdain for reproducing you in their wombs.
- 13. This could astonish you; Anunnaki women share many physical traits with your women.
- 14. The blending of lights is very important for an Anunnaki. It’s sacred. The Anunnaki don’t just try it with anyone, ever.
- 15. They must be married first. And this means that there is no multiple datings in the Anunnaki communities.
- 16. The Anunnaki female goes into a very nice hospital-like place. Anunnaki female physicians help her lie down on a table, much like one of the examination tables in any doctor’s office on Earth.
- 17. The attending physicians will be all females; they are very gentle and extremely skilled.
- 18. Using a special machine, they will beam a light right through her body; the light will search for her ovaries.
- 19. She will feel nothing at all, it’s just light, nothing will probe, or hurt, or even annoy her.
- 20. Once the light reaches the ovaries, it will activate one of the eggs, fertilize it, and have it move very smoothly into the uterus.
- 21. She will then become pregnant, and the fetus will begin to grow.

- 22. Anunnaki women have the egg removed by the light, placed in a special tube, and grow the baby in a machine.
- 23. They don’t have birth in the same sense humans do, but take the baby home after he or she is ready in the advanced incubator.
- 24. An Anunnaki woman never experiences pregnancy problems, pains, or miscarriage.
- 25. This process is completely different from what you call “Alien abduction”, because Anunnaki female physicians do not torment others, like some alien abductors do with their probing machines.

On visiting Ashtari (Nibiru to others)

Questions:

Note: The following questions were asked by Miranda Lopez from San Diego, USA.

- Has anybody from Earth visited Nibiru?
- If yes, what did they see, and how did they feel when they arrive to Nibiru?
- Is it like Earth?

Anunnaki-Ulema answers:

Master Govinda said:

- 1. Few human beings were taken to Ashtari.
- 2. Their early experience, upon arriving to Nibiru could be described as follows: 3. First, when a human being steps out of the spacecraft, he enters a world which looks like a sand storm on a completely gray planet, and he feels dizzy 4. The Anunnaki will take you indoors right away. You entered a building which you will not be able to see. But inside, with a dim light, everything becomes clear and nice.
- 5. Still, you will not be able to see anything outside because of the atmosphere.
- 6. On Ashtari, there is no pollution, no smoke, no oil fuels, since pure electromagnetic energy/light is all the Anunnaki use. It is so bright, so clear, that it creates a strange effect on your retina, which is used to different conditions.
- 7. Worth mentioning to you that the Anunnaki, like all the other galactic beings do not have a retina.
- 8. In fact, some cosmological/galactic beings don’t have eyes at all.

- 9. Where the Anunnaki will take you to, is an incredibly beautiful compound. The “Raha” which is a sort of a living room has very high ceiling. The Raha has multiple platforms, or levels that ran smoothly into each other.
- 10. Each platform is decorated with plants, little ponds, and flower basins.
- 11. All the “Takah” which are windows are covered with curtains, for your sake.
- 12. The windows are very large and admit an enormous amount of light and air.
- 13. Then, short after, an Anunnaki attendant will take you to a smaller, very cozy room, which contains a most comfortable bed. And you will sleep comfortably, despite the facts that you are still in a state of confusion, and your eyes are totaled closed.
- 14. When you wake up, your treatment begins.
- 15. An Anunnaki attendant will take you to a little room where she will show you a basin filled with aquamarine-tinted fluid.
- 16. She will ask you to go in, relax, and think only about colors, nothing else, preferably about one specific color.
- 17. She would come back in an hour or so, meanwhile the water will keep you warm and comfortable as long as you are in.
- 18. For a while nothing happens, but after a few minutes, all of a sudden a stream of lavender light will fill up the basin, and then the light will surround you like a translucent web.
- 19. And almost instantly, any physical pain you body has developed on earth will totally disappear.
- 20. Later on, the Anunnaki will start to adjust your sight (Vision), and they begin to cure all the weaknesses of your body, your genes, and all the possible diseases and sicknesses that you might have in the future.
- 21. In other words, they rapidly scan your body, and adjust all its frequencies. It is a very fast procedure.

And partially, and gradually you will acquire new DNA sequences. You will get healthier on the spot.

- 22. On the second day, an Anunnaki attendant will take you through a connecting corridor to a surgical room in another building.
- 23. You will be introduced me to a nurse, or physician, who will ask you to lie down on a table. A machine will came from the ceiling, shining a laser-like beam. They will scan your brain, and you will be asked to look at the screen on your right side to see how the cells in your brain would create new visual faculties.
- 24. You will be able to see and understand how your brain works! And you will instantly realize that many cells, millions of particles of the brains, were never used before by humans, and now many of them would become yours to use.
- 25. After a short time, an Anunnaki attendant will put a bandage around your eyes and a metallic band around your forehead. This is needed for readjusting the energy of your “Double”, and reactivating part of the cells.
- 26. This will not only adjust your vision, but will develop a telepathic power in due time.
- 27. At a later day, you become able to communicate telepathically with the Anunnaki, at will.
- 28. When the treatment is completed, your vision becomes perfect, and you could go out and see Ashtari for the first time.
- 29. Once outside the building, you will immediately feel the pure air, and see incomprehensible mélanges of lights. You have never seen such colors in your whole life; they are not known on earth.
- 30. Some of the colors of the sky blend with the colors of the landscape, giving you the feeling that the ground is united with the sky.

- 31. Then, you will realize that something very strange is happening. Your vision is no longer limited to straight lines. Your sight will expand, and you will be able to see to the left and right, like surrounding vision.
- 32. You will enjoy the sight of gorgeous buildings glimmering under the brilliant sky, the trees, bushes, and flowers filled every available space, and beautifully dressed, and lots of people walking in the streets.
- 33. Later, you will discover and easily understand that colors blend with the psyche of the Anunnaki.
- 34. The Anunnaki teach colors to children from a very early age, and it is so very important because understanding colors is essential for traveling through worlds and dimensions.
- 35. The whole celestial system is different on Ashtari, naturally.
- 36. The day is not composed of twenty-four hours. It’s made up of forty-eight hours.
- 37. The sun rises around four o’clock in the morning, and the glorious sunrise takes about two hours; the colors at that time are beyond description.
- 38. The sun shines for eighteen hours, then takes two hours for sunsets that seem to burn the sky with their intensity.
- 39. Ashtari has four moons. All rise harmoniously one after the other, and line up in four different directions.
- 40. They stay for about ten hours. When they fade, it’s again one after the other in the same synchronized manner, and the moonset is like molten silver filling the sky.
- 41. Then comes the night, but it is never one hundred percent dark. It’s like deep dusk.
- 42. The Anunnaki don’t need full darkness because their eyes do not have the usual retina, but another structure.

- 43. You will be was thrilled with their houses. They are never high-rise, since the Anunnaki discovered that when the body is far away from the ground, it loses some of its energy.
- 44. Nor do they like square rooms; everything is rounded, soft, flowing, and the houses have high ceilings. Usually they contain several floors, but not in the usual boxed way, but divided into levels. They don’t use stairs, the levels merge smoothly with each other. At every level, you see indoor pools and plants.
- 45. One part of an Anunnaki house is always connected to the neighboring house though a corridor. This is done for the sense of unity, and they never have locks.
- 46. The ceilings, by the way, change color with the seasons, to match the temperature outside. In winter, the ceiling is dark gray, and brings warmth. In summer, it becomes white, or the color of champagne.
- 47. All is smooth and meant for comfort. For example, doors don’t swing back and front, and never bang, rather they go up, sliding.
- 48. Materials used are natural stone, like marble or granite, and some trees are grown especially for the purpose of buildings construction. One interesting stone is called “Ourjan”, and its color is saffron. Parts of it can be ground to make a good die to color clothes, and materials.
- 49. Once you are admitted into the Anunnaki’s “Rama-rib’a” which means communities, you will learn that the Anunnaki believe that the ferocious animals on Earth were created by evil spirits.
- 50. The Anunnaki did not want to create animals. Working often by trial and error, one genetic formula produced cats. They called them Bessa. Strangely, in Coptic, Arabic, and other Semitic language, the cat is called Bess.

- 51. Strange similarity for two separate civilizations that are apart by million light years!
- 52. Somehow, only female cats were created, and the Anunnaki, who never hurt anyone or anything, let them live and actually started to like them very much.
- 53. They noticed that the cats responded to music and to the pleasant sound of falling water, something they always taught children to enjoy in school.
- 54. But the cats, without training, appreciated what the educated and trained children do. And so the cats became great companions for the Anunnaki, and they live in most houses as part of the family.
- 55. One of the gifts that the Anunnaki gave the early friendly monarchs of the Earth was a set of cats, trusting that these people will treat the cats well. You can see that in the history and mythology of Egypt, where the cats were downright sacred, and that shows another connection between the lineage of the early pharaoh and the Anunnaki.
- 56. The cats of the Anunnaki have psychic powers, and although they don’t sense fear and danger like cats on Earth, they predict weather. Anunnaki’s cats have a pure white fur, and a rainbow of blue and gray around the neck. They are about double the size of cats on Earth, and the color of their eyes is very light blue.
- 57. On Ashtari, there are no insects, only butterflies, because they blend well with the beauty of the landscape and they were also created by genetic formulas.
- 58. The genetic formulas are not carried on by advanced scientists, as on Earth. The children create life forms. It is part of their curriculum, but also it is a second nature for an Anunnaki to create.
- 59. This extends to other materials – such as metal transmutation and solid matter vibes and frequencies.

According to their needs, they can change gold to iron, iron to silver, etc., depending entirely on necessity.

- 60. On earth, you value diamonds and gold. On Ashtari, they are meaningless and without value, except for their prettiness and use as decorative materials.
- 61. The Anunnaki have other elements, minerals, and metals that are more important, because they are needed to create energy for spaceships, and for levitating and teleporting heavy weight blocks and materials.
- 62. You will be mesmerized by the beauty of the Anunnaki libraries buildings; they are marvelous marble buildings, always opened for everyone to visit.
- 63. The books, which seemed to be numbered in the millions, are not square like your books on Earth, but conical. They are placed on shelves. You would go to the shelf, select your cone, and touch it with one finger. The cone would spin, throw out silvery light, and instantly you will absorb all its contents.
- 64. Another great visual delight is the sight of the Anunnaki's museums! So many of them! Mostly, they display tools and apparatus that help the Anunnaki navigate different galaxies, past and present.
- 65. Several sections of the museums display instruments that produce musical sound never heard on Earth. One note can be very high and very low at the same time, but the human ear cannot absorb it until some adjustments are made.
- 66. Many of these instruments do not even need playing, you just touch them and they give melodious sounds.

28. On the Grays' abduction and their laboratories

Question:
Note: Question sent by Midhat Ismail Habash, Yemen.
I heard lots of nasty things about the Grays and how they abduct people and what they do to them. My question is what really is going there in the Grays base. Is it a base, a laboratory, hospital or what? And what kind of operations or surgery they perform on abductees?

Note: The answer to this question is found several books I previously authored A diligent reading and some patience are required to go through those books and dig out pertinent information. So, I am making it easy for you, by revisiting my previous work, and bringing out relevant details, and statements given by the Anunnaki themselves.

I am referring to vivid description of the Grays' labs by an Anunnaki matriarch called Sinhar Inannaschamra. She is talking to Sinhar Ambar Anati.
Here is a synopsis of their dialogues, interesting inquiries by Anati and answers of Sinhar Inannaschamra, her mother in law. Once again, this is not a repetition of my previous work. It has become very clear to me that my readers (Not all of them) did not have the chance or means to buy all my books, and read everything I have written on this specific situation.
This is why, I am going to make it easy on Mr. Habash, and briefly reproduce herewith, the most vital information on this case, directly absorbed from my previous work Answers/description provided by Anunnaki Sinhar Inannaschamra: Sinhar Inannaschamra said to Anati: "The first thing we must talk about is the situation with the Grays."

"The small extraterrestrials with the bug eyes, right?" said Anati. "Yes. They do not contact people like we do, on your planet. They abduct them. You are familiar with many stories that come from the people that they have abducted, but much of what these people say is inaccurate, and based upon mind control that the Grays exercise on them. I am going to tell you a bit, and then, if you feel up to it, we will take a short trip on my spaceship and visit one of their labs."

"Would they let you in? Aren't they dangerous?"

"Dangerous? Very. But not to an Anunnaki. We are much stronger and they are afraid of us. If I come to their place and demand to see a lab, I will see a lab. In addition, I want to show you a few things on a monitor.

Some will be extremely unpleasant, but it cannot be avoided if you want to learn something."

"What do they want of us on earth?"

"There are a few things that they want. First, they want eggs from human women and use them to create hybrids. Let's take a look at this monitor, and I'll show you how they do that. But Victoria, steel yourself. This is pretty horrible, even though I have seen even worse. You will also be able to hear, it is like a television."

The monitor blinked and buzzed, and a small white dot appeared on the screen. It enlarged itself, moved back and forth, and settled into a window-like view of a huge room, but the view was still rather fuzzy. I heard horrendous screams and froze in my seat, these were sounds I have never heard before.

After a few minutes the view cleared and I saw what seemed to be a hospital room, but it was rounded, not square. Only part of it was revealed, as it was elongated and the far edge was not visible. The walls on the side were moving back and forth, like some kind of a balloon that was being inflated and deflated periodically, with a motion that made me dizzy; they seemed sticky, even gooey.

The room was full of operation tables, of which I could see perhaps forty or fifty, on which were stretched human beings, each attached to the table and unable to move, but obviously not sedated, since they were screaming or moaning.

Everyone was attached to tubes, into which blood was pouring in huge quantities. I noticed that some of the blood was turning into a filthy green color, like rotting vegetation. At the time I could not understand what that was, but later that day I found out.

This blood was converted to a suitable type for some of the aliens that paid the Grays to collect it, and it was not useful in its raw condition.

The people who operated these experiments were small and gray, and they had big bug eyes and pointy faces without any expression. I thought they looked more like insects than like a humanoid species. They wore no clothes, and their skin was shiny and moist, like that of an amphibian on earth. It visibly exuded beads of moisture which they did not bother to wipe away.

Each operating table had complicated machinery that was poised right on top of the person who was strapped to it. On some of the tables, the machinery was lowered so that needles could be extracted from them automatically, and the needles reached every part of the human bodies, faces, eyes, ears, genitals, stomach. The people screamed as they saw the needles approaching them, some of them fainted. Many of the people were already dead, I could swear to that. Others were still alive but barely so, and some had arms and legs amputated from their bodies. It was clear that once the experiment was over, every single person there will die.

I don’t know how I could continue to look, but somehow I managed. I looked at the ceiling of this slaughter house and saw meat hooks, on which arms and legs and even heads were hanging, like a butcher's warehouse. On the side of the tables were large glass tanks where some organs were placed, possibly hearts, livers, or lungs, all preserved in liquids.

The workers were doing their job dispassionately and without any feelings, moving around like ants and making buzzing sounds at each other as they conversed. They were entirely business-like and devoid of emotion. At least, their huge bug eyes did not convey any emotion to me, neither did their expressionless faces.

I watched until I could no longer tolerate it, and finally covered my eyes and cried out, "Why don't you stop it? Why don't you interfere?"

Sinhar Inannaschamra turned the monitor off. "This event is a record from decades ago, Victoria. It is not happening now as we look. And even though often we do interfere, we cannot police the entire universe or even the entire earth. They know how to hide from us. And you must understand, that often the victims cooperate with their abductors."

"Why would they?"

"Basically, through mind control. The Grays have many ways to convince the victims. The Grays can enter the human mind quite easily, and they find what the abductees are feeling and thinking about various subjects. Then, they can either threaten them by various means, or persuade them by a promise of reward."

"Reward? What can they possibly offer?"

"Well, you see, they show the victims images through a monitor, just like this one. They tell them that they can send them through a gate, which is controlled by the monitor, to any number of universes, both physical and non-physical. That is where the reward come in.

For example, if the abductees had originally reacted well to images of Mary or Jesus, the Grays can promise them the joy of the non-physical dimensions.

They show them images of a place where Mary and Jesus reside, where all the saints or favorite prophets live, and even the abode of God. They promise the abductees that if they cooperate, they could live in this non-physical universe in perpetual happiness with their deities. Many fall for that."

"And if they resist?"

"Then they show them the non-physical alternative, which is Hell. Would you like to see some of it?"

"You can show me Hell?" I asked, amazed.

"No, there is no such thing as Hell… it's a myth that religions often exploited. But I can show you what the Grays show the abductees, pretending it is hell; they are quite devious, you know. You see, some creatures live in different dimensions, where our laws do not apply. Sometimes, they escape to other dimensions.

These beings have no substance in their new dimensions, and they need some kind of bodies to function. At the same time, the Grays can tap into numerous universes, because they can control their own molecules to make them move and navigate through any dimension.

Well, a cosmic trade had been developed. The Grays supply the substance taken from human abductees, and from the blood of cattle. You must have heard of cattle mutilation, where carcasses of cows are found in the fields, entirely drained of blood? The Grays do it for their customers."

"How do these creatures pay the Grays?"

"By various services. Once they get their substance, they are incredibly powerful in a physical sense. The old tales of genies who can lift buildings and fly with them through the air were based on these demons; the Grays often have a use for such services. But let me show you a few of these creatures.

Of course, you can only see them when they have already acquired some substance from the Grays."

The monitor hummed again as Inannaschamra turned it on. The white dot expanded into its window, which now, for some reason, was larger and took over the entire screen. All I could see was white fog with swirls floating through it. Sometimes the fog changed from white to gray, then to white again.

I started hearing moans. Not screams, nothing that suggested the kind of physical pain I saw before, but perhaps just as horrible, since they voices where those of hopelessness, despair, and emotional anguish. Every so often I heard a sound that suggested a banshee's wail, or keen, as described in Irish folklore.

"It will take a while for someone to show up," said Sinhar Inannaschamra. "Most of them have no substance, and therefore they are invisible. Others have a shadowy substance. Then, there are the others… but you will see in a minute. Once they notice they are being watched, they will flock to the area, since they are desperate to get out. Incidentally, it was never made quite clear to me how they produce sounds without bodies, we are still trying to find out what the mechanics are, but it's not easy, because we would rather not go there in person."

"They sound horribly sad," I said.

"This is what makes it so hell-like. In many cultures, Hell never had any fire and brimstone and tormenting devils, but rather, it was a place of acute loneliness, lack of substance, and alienation from anything that could sustain the individual from a spiritual point of view.

Think of the Greek Hades, or the ancient Hebrew Sheol, before the Jews made their Hell more like the Christian one. Look, here comes the first creature. Poor thing, he is a shadow."

I saw a vaguely humanoid shape in deep gray. It seemed to have arms, which it waved in our direction. It seemed fully aware of the monitor. Then another shadow, then another, all shoving each other and waving desperately at the monitor. Then something more substantial came into view, and I jumped back as if it could reach me. It seemed to be a severed arm.

Cautiously, I came back, and then saw that the arm was attached to a shadow body. I looked at Sinhar Inannaschamra, speechless, and she said, “Yes, here you see one that managed to receive an arm. It wants to complete its body, of course, so that it can get out of this dimension and serve the Grays, but the Grays keep them waiting until they want them.”

More and more came, clamoring for attention. “Do they think we are Grays?” I asked.

“Yes, they do. They can’t tell the difference, all they know is that they are watched, and they try to get the attention of the watchers. It’s incredibly cruel, but if you feel for them, which I still do, remember that at the same time they become murderous, cruel creatures themselves as soon as they escape their dimension and join the Grays.”

Another half thing came into view. It had eyes stuck in the middle of a half-formed face, each eye different. The face seemed mutilated, somehow, until I realized it had no nose and no chin.

Floating heads, arms, legs, torsos – they all jostled in front of the monitor, each more horrible than the other. And then I saw the worst thing imaginable.

“Sinhar Inannaschamra!” I screamed. “This is a baby’s head! A floating baby’s head! What in the world it is attached to?”

“Another shadow,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra. “They don’t care what age the substance comes from. Sometime the babies’ heads or limbs get attached to big adult bodies.”

“They use babies,” I said, sobbing. “Babies…”

“Yes, this is the kind of creatures we have to contend with,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra. She looked at me and realized I could not take any more of this Hell, and so turned off the monitor.

“This was something,” I said, shivering and trying to recover. “Indeed,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra. “So you see, they can easily show them horrific pictures of Hell, enough to frighten them to such an extent, that they are sure to obey.

Interestingly, the abductees, under such threats, often develop physical, psychosomatic effect in the form of scratches, burns, or even stigmata, on parts of their bodies.

Of course, sometimes the Grays burn them with laser beams as a form of punishment or of persuasion, and sometimes the wounds are produced simply by the radioactive rays emanating from the spaceship, like what sometimes happens in nuclear plants on earth, or during nuclear explosions. But most often it is the mind reacting to the image.”

“How horrible…” I said weakly.

“It gets worse,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra. “They can show them the physical universe as well. They would project, on screen, well-known events that occurred during times in which humanity was utterly cruel, or when war, famines, and plagues ravished the earth.

They might show them the Crusades, or Attila the Hun, or the Nazi concentration camps, or the famine in Ireland, or the black plague in Europe, and threaten them that they can open a gate through the monitor, and abandon them there for the rest of their lives.”

“The poor things. No wonder they obey,” I said.

“Yes, you see, the Anunnaki tell you the truth when they contact you. They let you know that they cannot change the past, nor can they interfere with the future. But the Grays lie. They tell the abductees that they can change events in the past, from day one, and that they could project and change life at two, five, or ten thousand years in the future of humanity.”

“I wish you would just wipe them of the face of the universe,” I said.

“We don’t do such things. Some of us recommend it, but we just don’t. Anyway, they have other systems of persuasion. Some women have a very strong reaction to the images of children.

The Grays catch it, of course, and then they tell the women that they have been abducted before, years ago, and were impregnated by the Grays. Then they show them a hybrid child and tell them that this is their own child.

Many of the abductees of all ages who are thus psychologically influenced fall instantly into a pathological attachment to the hybrid child.

Then the Grays tell them that if they don’t fully cooperate, they will take the child away. The woman cooperates, the experiment takes place, and then the Grays make them forget the child and place them back in their beds at home.

Usually, some vague memory remains, since the Grays don’t care about the well being of their victims and don’t bother to check if the memory is completely cleaned out.”

“But it is not really their child?”

“Sometimes it is, sometimes it isn’t. You must realize that normal impregnation and the nine months of carrying the baby does not occur. The Grays take the eggs out of the woman, the way you just saw it on the monitor, put them in a tube, fertilize it by an electric or sometimes atomic way, and the hybrid grows in the tube until it is of term. No woman has ever given birth to a hybrid.”

“This is beyond words,” I said. “And I thought most of the extraterrestrials would be like you.”

“There are many species,” said Inannaschamra. There are those humans call ‘The Nordic,’ they look and behave much like humans, they are rather kindly, and other kinds are reasonable as well.

But there are a lot of horrible species. The closer any species get to the demonic dimension, and particularly if they trade with them, the worse they become. Some look reptilian, some insect-like.

Some eat human beings and other sentient species, in what we see as almost cannibalistic behavior. Some make sacrifices of sentient beings to their deities. The reptilians have a specialized digestive system.

They don’t eat solid food, but only suck blood through pores in their fingers. That is why some researchers on earth connect the extraterrestrials with vampirism.

The Grays sell them cattle blood, since the reptilians don’t particularly care where the blood comes from. But anyway, are you ready for your field trip? Let’s go and visit a Grays’ lab.”

I thought I was ready. I thought I was tough. But what I saw on this field trip would remain with me for eons.

Sinhar Inannaschamra took me to her spaceship, and informed me that the trip would be very short. She had been to this lab before, and knew the conditions very well. Just before we landed, she pulled out a suit that was needed to protect me from any radiation.

Apparently, for this trip, she needed no protection herself, but she could not tell as yet if I could tolerate such conditions or not, due to my human existence for the last thirty years.

The suit was made of lightweight, soft metallic material that was actually rather comfortable and moved easily with me. Then, I put on a helmet, which was entirely transparent and allowed me perfect vision.

We landed on a bleak field covered with some material that looked much like cement, gray and unpleasant, but with a smoother finish. Right before us was a huge building which looked like an ugly airport hangar, completely utilitarian without any ornamentation.

The entire area around it was an empty prairie-like field with stunted, grayish vegetation, stretching into the horizon without any feature like a mountain or a city. The sky was gray but without clouds. We walked to a large door, tightly closed and made of metal.

Sinhar Inannaschamra put her hand on it, and it slid immediately to the side and allowed us to come in. “They know my hand print,” she said to me. We entered a small hall, empty of any furniture, and from there, a door opened into a long corridor, brightly lit and painted white. On each side there were doors, also painted white, all closed, and it was entirely empty of any occupants. Sinhar Inannaschamra led the way to one of the doors, and again placed her hand on it.

The door slid open silently, and we entered an enormous room. It was so huge that I could not see the end of it, and had gray walls and a white ceiling. Round, bright lights of large circumference were placed in the ceiling, emanating a very strong illumination.

The impression the room gave was that of a hospital ward, or a surgical hall, but there were no beds or operation tables, only large tanks containing some objects I could not as yet see. And while the place was scrupulously clean, the smell was nightmarish.

I recognized the stench of formaldehyde, mingled with some other malodorous liquids. I was surprised I could smell anything through the helmet, but Sinhar Inannaschamra explained that they deliberately made the suits and the helmets allow as much interaction with the environment as possible.

“It smells like that because this is the warehouse, where they keep all the spare parts,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra. “Come, look at this tank.”

We approached an enormous tank, transparent in the front parts and increasingly opaque as it extended further into the room. Inside floated a large number of severed arms and legs, all human. I recoiled in horror, but quickly recovered. We went to the next tank. It was arranged in the same manner, but inside floated severed heads and torsos.

And so it went on, each tank filled with body parts, some even with full bodies. Smaller containers had interior organs, such as livers, hearts, and some others I was not sure of.

In addition, there were containers of blood, some red, some green. I already knew that the green blood was like that after preparation for sale to species that needed the adjustments.

Suddenly I heard sounds of conversation, as if a group of people were approaching us from somewhere. The sounds were in a language I could not understand, and uttered in a metallic, screeching way that was almost mechanical. To me, it sounded demonic and inhuman.

A group of five Grays approached us. After what I have seen on the monitor, I was about to escape in terror, but the group bowed to Sinhar Inannaschamra, and went on about their business.

One of them approached a tank. He looked at what seemed to be a chart, like a hospital chart but in a language I could not understand, that was positioned above the tank, and just stared at it for a short while.

A line on the chart lit up, and some equipment that was build above the tank came down, entered the tank, and using a robotic hand pulled out a specimen and placed it in a tube, along with some of the liquid. Then the robotic hand came up, moved forward, and handed the tube to the Gray. The Gray took the tube, looked at the chart, and the robotic hand withdrew.

The Gray took the tube to a wall and placed the tube against it. To my amazement, the wall sort of swallowed the tube and it disappeared.

I looked at Sinhar Inannaschamra for explanation, and she said, “The walls are not solid. They look solid, of course, but really they are constructed of energy. The Grays can move things back and forth, and even pass through it themselves. Some of the walls contain drawers, where they place equipment.”

The other Grays were all communicating among themselves in their demonic language, mostly ignoring us. “Let’s go to the next room, where I can show you what they do with their specimens,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra. We went to the wall and she put her hand on it while holding me with her other hand, and I found myself passing through the wall as if it was made of thick molasses.

The room we entered was designed just like the others, architecturally, but had work tables instead of tanks and containers. Hundreds of Grays stood there, each at his table, doing things to the limbs, torsos, and blood.

The smell of formaldehyde was so intense that I almost fainted. “Here,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra. “Let me adjust the helmet so you don’t have to smell the liquid.” She did something at the back of the helmet, and I felt better.

“And now, let’s go to the area where they fit the spare parts on the creatures I have shown you, the ones that want to buy substance,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra.

We stepped into a third room, again through the wall, and this was a much smaller room.

On the walls, there were a number of monitors, just like the ones in Sinhar Inannaschamra’s office, but much larger.

Before each monitor stood a Gray. We walked to one of them, and the Gray bowed to Sinhar Inannaschamra, and returned to his work.

The Gray adjusted something, and a swirling shadow attached to one leg appeared on the screen. Behind him were numerous other shadows, but the Gray managed to separate the first creature from the others with some walls of energy that looked like white fog.

The creature waved desperately at the Gray, who had before him a torso in liquid. A large robotic hand came from above the monitor, picked up the torso, and allowed the liquid to drain into its container.

Then, he passed the torso through the screen, which now I realized was made of energy, like the wall, and placed it on the shadow.

The shadow shivered, as if in pain, and I heard a deep moan or sigh, as the torso attached itself to the swirling gray form. I had a glimpse of a shadowy face, contorted in agony, but whether it was physical or mental pain I did not know.

The shadow seemed utterly exhausted by the bizarre procedure, and floated away.

“What will happen to it now?” I asked.

“It will be back again and again, and when the Gray decide, they will give it more parts, allowing it to adjust and become more substantial.”

“Are there any of them ready to leave and serve the Grays?”

“Yes, but I think this would be too dangerous to visit in person. The demonic creatures don’t have the restraints the Grays have, regarding the Anunnaki, and often they are too stupid and just lash out as soon as they are brought into our dimension.

Their transport, therefore, is done in a different part of the lab, under tremendous precautions. Besides, we don’t want to stay much longer, since I think you had seen enough for one day…”

I could not agree with her more, and we retraced our steps back to the spaceship.

“Next time I will show you how the creatures are taken out and put to service,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra. “Only not in person.”

This sounded good to me. I was already so shaken from my day’s adventures, I did not think I could take much more instruction, nor did I have a wish to meet such creatures in person. But, of course, I knew that one day I would have to do exactly that.

On contacting the dead through your Double.

Question:

Can we contact our departed parents through our double? And is it dangerous to contact the dead?

Answer:

- 1. No such contact is possible. However, few enlightened ones have succeeded in contacting the Mind of the deceased only during the first 40 days of the departure of the dead.
- 2. During the 40 days period, a contact could occur, if the deceased have not yet entered his Double.

- 3. Once the deceased has entered his Double, it becomes very difficult to sense the frequencies of the Mind.
- 4. It is very difficult but not impossible, especially if the deceased has a noble Mind, and that Mind either initiated a contact or was still on the perimeters of the physical and non physical dimensions.

- 5. Once the Mind enters the Fifth dimension, contacting the dead becomes impossibility.
- 6. The Anunnaki-Ulema are capable of contacting other Minds and non-physical entities in other dimensions, multiple universes, and parallel dimensions through the Miraya (Anunnaki cosmic monitor, also called mirror.)

- 7. A Double can contact another Double in the after-life, even if both of them live in different dimensions.
- 8. Sometimes, your Double tries to contact you while you are still alive. And because you are still alive on Earth, and your Double exists in a non-physical dimension, the contact occurs in many ways, forms and means. Poets call this contact inspiration. Psychics call it channeling. Spiritists call it communication with the dead. The truth is this:

- a-No psychic, no spiritist, no living creature on this Earth can communicate with the dead.
- b-You cannot command your Double to appear before you. Only the enlightened ones can.

- c-Your Double can initiate a contact through telepathy, projection of thoughts, and ethereal apparition on smooth surfaces like mirror, glass, and limpid waters.
- d-The Anunnaki can compose and de-compose the molecules and cells of the human body, and alter the first elements of your creation (In other words: DNA). This, allows them to project, materialize, teleport and duplicate so many Doubles, including yours.

- e-When the Anunnaki created you, they have also created an original copy of yourself and stored it in their archives. This copy was stored and recorded as your blueprint.
- f-The Anunnaki can project your blueprint on a holographic screen right before your eyes.

- g-This projection allows you to see and read your past, present and future life illustrated in sequences.
- h-Attempt to contact your Double could be harmful, if you are not initiated. It could cause:

- (a) mental perturbation;
- (b) psychological confusion;

 (c) psychosomatic disequilibrium.

Anunnaki Genetic Creation of the Human Races, Demons and Spirits. 5th Edition. (In 2 Volumes)
The book IS EXPLOSIVE and AUTHORITATIVE! It contains hundreds of photographs, illustrations, maps, sketches and inscriptions, tablets and slabs translated from Sumerian and Akkadian by the author, a world authority on ancient languages and Anunnaki.

5,000 year old tablets demonstrated that WE ARE NOT CREATED BY THE GOD OF THE BIBLE. We were genetically created by the Anunnaki. This book has all the proofs to convince you once for good! The Anunnaki created the human race, God, Gods, angels, spirits and demons before the dawn of the history of Man. Don't be offended, GOD was created by the Egyptian priests, and the Mesopotamian myths/epics. And organized religions are cashing on it!
The extraterrestrials created many species and different human races here on planet Earth. But there are other early human beings who were created in space, and on other planets, and like the very small and very tall species, they were not part of the evolutionary process of the modern human beings. In total, 36 (some say 46) different human and quasi-human species lived on planet Earth in many regions of the globe. And none of them were created by the "God" we know and worship. After all, they did not look like humans, and if we have to believe that humans were created in the image of "God", as Judaism, Christianity and Islam tell us, then, most certainly those early 36 different species who looked like ferocious beasts, were not made in the image of "God".

The Anunnaki, Igigi and other extraterrestrial civilizations created several models of early human beings, Negative entities, reptilians, Djinns, Afrit, evil-birds, and demons which live in the lower sphere/zone (Alternate dimension), and on Earth Also you will read about:
Names of the Anunnaki gods and goddesses who created the first humans, and the genetic creation of the human race
The Igigi who created the first quasi human/robots
The Akkadian text on the creation of Man
Anunnaki geneticists who developed DNA sequences, and altered the genes of hybrids
The early human forms
The Earth-made human creatures
The Space-made human creatures
Metabolism and the oceans-made human creatures
Evolution of the extraterrestrials and the human races
Negative entities, reptilians, Djinns, Afrit, evil-birds, and demons which live in the lower sphere/zone (Alternate dimension), and on Earth
Anamidra explains the creation of Man from cosmic clay
Copies of the universe, including copies of ourselves, and Earth in other dimensions Dual nature of humans, before they were separated genetically
"Grays": Intraterrestrial non-human
How the Anunnaki created us genetically in their laboratories.

YEAR 2022. Anunnaki Code: End Of The World And Their Return To Earth. (Return of the Extraterrestrial Gods) In 2 Parts

Most of the material of this book has been learned from sources that are totally out of reach for the average reader, and ufology's milieu. Some was hidden in the archives of museums, some written on tablets that have never been translated before, and some of it is oral knowledge that have never been given to a Westerner before. The author, Maximillien de Lafayette, have been so fortunate as to study with those who are the guardians of this knowledge in the East. This is the first time he is making use of this depot of knowledge, and we are very lucky to have access to it. The subjects introduced in this book are explosive. Most important is the fact that it reveals the potential return of the Anunnaki in 2022, and the most frightening transformation that it would bring to the earth. If this is going to happen, a huge number of the people on earth, those grossly contaminated by Grays' DNA, will be annihilated. You know who they are - the child murderers, the rapists, those who torture, those who abuse, etc. Yes, we all know who they are. But the Anunnaki, who have no false sentimentality at all, will not tolerate even a medium level contamination. Unless they do their best to clean themselves during the grace period of the next eleven years, those of mid level contamination will also be destroyed. Those who would manage to clean themselves to a certain degree may possibly (but without any guarantee) be able to escape the burning, smoking earth through special portals, called Ba'abs. Only those who are naturally uncontaminated and those who managed to clean themselves completely will be taken up through an antimatter bubble, with the animals and certain important buildings and inanimate art and culture objects, and kept safe until the earth would be clean again. Such a scenario is, to say the least, disconcerting.

Even if you are not sure whether you are a believer or not, you should certainly consider the possibilities - and the book teaches you exactly how to save yourself. For those who are interested in the use of esoteric codes, they are here to learn from. Each term will teach you how to use it for your benefit, how to apply it not only to your spiritual growth, but to your business, relationships, and daily life.

You will learn how to interpret the codes in many ancient languages, how to build a physical amulet/code that will protect certain aspects of your life, and how to develop your psychic and extrasensory powers by simply using these codes.

You will learn how the Anunnaki were our original creators, who else tempered with our genetic materials, and how God factors into all this. Religion, true and false, will be explored. Jesus, who never really died on the Cross, will be shown as a historical figure, with his wife, Mary Magdalene, with whom he escaped to ancient Marseille. Who were Adam and Eve? Who was the Serpent? How do the gods of Sumer signify to us?

You will be asked to consider the old theory, now discarded, that the Anunnaki came here to mine gold. You will meet the earliest extraterrestrial-human civilization, and no, it was not Sumer. It was, believe it or not, Phoenicia! You will learn many secrets about the Anunnaki themselves - such as their extrasensory powers, their deep knowledge of genetics and science, and their unbelievably long lifespan.

Who is their God?

For the first time in philology's history, and chronicles of civilizations of the ancient world, Maximillien de Lafayette, a world renowned expert linguist (Ancient Languages) provides us with the first lexicon/thesaurus/dictionary of the Anunnaki and Ulemite languages. This book is a treasure. It consists of a set of 4 volumes. The last volume focuses on Anunnaki and Igigi language conversation. And YES you will be able to speak their terrestrial and extraterrestrials languages as spoken on Earth and their planet.
This unique work consists of definitions of words, etymology, epistemology, the study and linguistic investigation of the derivation and origin of the ancient Middle and Near East languages, Semitic and non-Semitic languages and dialects, including, but not limited to Old Babylonian, Akkadian, Sumerian, Assyrian, Chaldean, Aramaic, Phoenician, Ugaritic, Hebrew, Hittite, Arabic, etc.
Ana'kh is the language of the Anunnaki who descended on ancient Turkey, Mesopotamia, and Phoenicia according to the Ulema. It is of an extraterrestrial origin. Ulema Al Bakr stated that it was used by early the human beings who lived in ancient Anatolia, on the Island of Arwad, in Tyre, Sidon, Byblos, Ugarit, Amrit, and Mu. He added that from the Ana'kh derived the primitive languages of the Near East and the Middle East. Ana'kh was never made public.
It remained a secret language known only to the Ulema, and later on to the Allamah. It sounds Semitic, because of its phonetics. But it is "not Semitic at all", said Ulema Ghandar Gupta.
It has no grammar, but it has an extremely rich vocabulary and an abundance of metaphoric expressions.
A considerable number of Akkadian and Sumerian words that appeared in the Sumerian/Akkadian/Chaldean Epic of Creation and the Bible derived from Ana'kh.
Around 569 A.D., a group of Ulema (Munawareen) in the Near East (Non-Islamic scholars) compiled an extensive list of Ana'kh words and phrases. In 625, A.D., two leading figures of the Ulema brotherhood wrote the Book of Rama-Dosh; a compilation of Ana'kh terminology, a lexicon, and Kiraats (Readings).
Ulema AL Bakr stated that the Ulema are not member of a religious group. They are neither Muslim nor members of any organized religion. In fact, they were persecuted by the companions of the Prophet Muhammad, and were expelled from the Arab Peninsula. They found refuge in Cyprus and Marseille. But the honorable Ulema was quick to point out that the early Sufi masters, poets and Sufi trance dancers were Ulema. He added that Ulema should not be confused with the Islamic Ulema who teach Islamic law, or with the Allamah who were the leading Islamic figures of science and letters in medieval times.
Farid Tayarah, an Ulema himself, and a former head of a Masonic Lodge stated that the Ana'kh was used during Masonic sessions and services. He added that a considerable number of Masonic words and expressions are pure Ana'kh, especially those words referring to levels and degrees in Freemasonry, and initiation ceremonies.

Many of the original words of this language, as well as numerous linguistic derivations are included in this book.
